

HUGE CROWD VIEWS PARADE

Kidnap Victim

Shaken by her harrowing experience, Lt. Dorothy Wilt, an Army nurse, holds her arm against her face as she leaves Queens' Hotel Court, N. Y. City, after signing a complaint against three Negroes. One man was held and two were released after taking $40 and threatening her.

PA NEW OBSERVES

It was a perfect night for a parade. Warm as summer, and navy blue in the sky.

Some idea of the mass parking that was done in the city last night by spectators to the parade, can be gained by the fact that even North Mercer street hill, one of the steepest in the city, was lined solid with parked cars.

In scattered locations along the parade route, some of the spectators carried out the metropolitan idea of shoveling torn paper on the parade.

Probably the largest crowd that ever assembled for a parade in New Castle was that witnessing that Armistice parade last night. Along Washington street, not only the curbside and sidewalks were filled, but hundreds of windows of buildings gave vantage points for spectators, and in several instances the roof of a building was the reviewing stand for groups.

Police officers had a big job keeping the huge crowd from crowding into the line of march, at several sectors of the line of march. Especially when there was a break in the parade, the crowd was inclined to surge into the line of march route.

One of the floats in the parade, that carrying a regular caboose of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, was so large and high that it was necessary at stop lights to vent to the side of the street, in order to clear the traffic lights. The Pennsylvania delegation was one of the high spots of the parade, having not only a large delegation of marchers, but a replica of an engine, and other equipment used on the railroad in the lineup.

The float which was sponsored in last night's parade by the War Finance commission, and which called particular attention to the current Victory Loan campaign, was paid for by four of the city's leading merchants, Co-Chairman Clarence M. England stated.

The huge crowd that assembled for the parade last night was a most orderly one, according to reports from police headquarters.

Park benches were occupied yesterday as on a midsummer day. Temperature got up to between sixty and seventy degrees.

Suggestion is sent to The News that a change in bus stops at the Mill and Washington street intersection could be made that would eliminate congestion and operate for (Continued on Page Two)

Congress Hears Attlee's Plea For World Peace

British Prime Minister Speaks At Joint Session Of Congress Today

EXPLAINS AIMS OF LABOR PARTY

By ROBERT G. NIXON
U. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Prime Minister Clement Attlee made an appeal to a joint session of congress today for world peace and a strong United Nations organization founded on the "brotherhood of man."

The British leader, making his first appearance before Congress, left untouched most of the pressing problems of the postwar world and devoted the greater part of his address to explaining the aims of the British labor party.

Foundation Of Peace

"We believe that the foundations of peace must be world prosperity and good neighborliness," he said. "That where science has placed such potential abundance before the human race we should collaborate to take advantage of it rather than scramble and fight for larger individual shares which only result in an immense increase in poverty."

"We believe that we cannot make a heaven in our own country and leave a hell outside."

"We believe this not only from the moral basis of our movement which is based on the brotherhood of man without distinction of race or creed but also from an entirely practical standpoint."

"We seek to raise the standard of life of our people. We can only do so by trading with the rest of the world and as good traders we wish to have prosperous customers."

Raise Living Standard

The prime minister said that his government party seeks to raise the standard of living of Britain's as well as "hundreds of millions of people" living elsewhere in the world.

"There is ample room in the world" (Continued on Page Two)

Report Battles Are In Progress In China Areas

CHUNGKING, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Central government and communist sources in Chungking reported today that stiff battles were in progress in the Shanhai-kwan corridor leading from central China to Manchuria.

The communists charge that the steady reinforcement of central government troops at the northern port of Chinwangtao was not for the purpose of entry into Manchuria but actually a maneuver to sweep inland from the north to attack communist strongholds.

While K. C. Wu, central government minister of information, said that Chinwangtao provided the only possible spot for the landing of troops for an entry into Manchuria, a communist spokesman asserted that the central government forces were aiming at a drive against communist forces in Hopei, Jehol and Chahar provinces which are communist strongholds.

Shanhai-kwan itself still remained in communist hands despite the bitter fighting.

The independent Chungking newspaper Ta Kung Pao said that central government troops were having to fight for every inch to get through the Shanhai-kwan corridor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., says the best way to pay the expenses of World War II and defeat inflation is to buy Victory bonds. His statement follows:

Equipping Of Chinese Still Under Consideration

CHUNGKING, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, commander of American forces in China, left the implication today that the question of whether the United States will continue to equip Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces still is under consideration.

Denying that he discussed American equipping of Chinese forces during discussions with the Communist negotiator at Chungking, Wedemeyer declared:

"Conversations on the equipping of Chinese forces are being held on a much higher level."

"I cannot say whether the United States will equip Chinese forces, or how much the U. S. might grant."

Earlier, a spokesman for the influential Chinese Democratic league said that at a meeting Sunday night Gen. Chou En Lai—the Communist negotiator—quoted Wedemeyer as saying the United States is planning to equip 70 Chinese divisions.

Denies Report

Questioned on this report, the American general admitted conferring with Chou, but denied that the subject of American equipment for Chiang's force came up.

At Washington, War Secretary Robert Patterson reiterated that the Americans are in China only to help in the disarming and evacuation of Japanese troops. He warned that the Yanks would defend themselves "with vigor and (Continued on Page Two)

More Massacres By Japs Told At Yamashita Trial

By PAT ROBINSON
U. S. Staff Correspondent

MANILA, Nov. 13.—More tales of massacres by Japanese troops were recorded today at the war crimes trial of Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, but the defense scored a minor point on testimony of its first witness when he was called to refute testimony of a Filipino collaborator whom the prosecution had called last week.

Romero, the grandson of the late Gen. Artemio Ricarte, a pro-Japanese Filipino, denied testimony saying that he had acted as interpreter between his grandfather and Yamashita.

The youth was reared in Japan and gave his testimony in Japanese through an American interpreter. The prosecution witness had charged that the boy acted as interpreter.

Speculate On Sanity

The question of Hesse's sanity has been the subject of speculation ever since the one-time Fuehrer's designate as his successor parachuted into Britain in 1941. At that time, Adolf Hitler was quoted as declaring that Hesse had gone mad, but that was generally regarded as a prejudiced opinion.

However, it was disclosed some weeks ago that Hesse is now claiming complete amnesia. He insists that he has a mental blackout so far as all the years of the Nazi regime are concerned—that he cannot even remember what Hitler looked like.

At a news conference defense lawyers unflinchingly declared that would not oppose opening of the (Continued on Page Two)

Will Investigate Palestine Problem

U. S. To Join Britain In Setting Up Anglo-American Committee Of Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Truman announced today that the United States will join with Great Britain in the setting up of an Anglo-American committee of inquiry to investigate the entire Palestine problem.

The chief executive, in the midst of the atomic bomb conference with Prime Minister Attlee of Britain and Premier Mackenzie King of Canada, formally announced that Britain had turned down his request that Palestine be opened to receive 100,000 additional Jewish immigrants from the war-devastated areas of Europe.

As a counter to the president's proposal, his statement said, Prime Minister Attlee proposed that the joint committee be set up with a rotating chairmanship to investigate the Palestine problem.

GROVE CITY MAN KILLED BY AUTO

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 13.—(INS)—James Pirah, 84, a former Pittsburgher living at the home for the aged at Grove City, was killed last night when he was struck by an automobile while walking along the highway near the home.

Paul Collichio, 24, a sailor, of Grove City, was driver of the car, police said.

Intervention By Russia Is Asked In Revolt In Java

Nationalist Revolt Leaders Make Appeal To Soviet To Make Protest

BRITISH TROOPS MAKE ADVANCE

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 13.—(INS)—British artillery, armor and infantry reduced Indonesian strongholds remaining in flaming Soerabaya today as leaders of the nationalist revolt in Java called upon Russia to intervene.

Reuters reported at London that Aneta, official Dutch news agency broadcast from Batavia that the Indonesians called also upon the United States and China to intervene in "this bloody battle." This report added that religious leaders were urged to assist the nationalists by poisoning water supplies and by showing "no mercy to prisoners of war."

Appeal To Russia

The appeal to Russia Premier Joseph Stalin and Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov was made by Subardjo, so-called foreign minister of the Indonesian republic. The Indonesian newspaper Merdeka said that Subardjo called upon the Russian leaders to "make a strong protest against the application of methods in defiance of humanity."

Fall Consistory Reunion To Start

Valley Of New Castle Consistory Will Open Fall Conclave On Wednesday

Conferring of degrees on another large class of candidates will begin Wednesday in the Cathedral when the annual fall reunion of the Valley of New Castle Consistory, A. A. S. R. opens. Sessions will be held afternoon and evening through Friday.

Commander-in-Chief Ill. Welly O. Rugh is looking forward to another large class of candidates being on hand at the reception for them Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock. The conferring of degrees will start at three p. m.

Old-fashioned Scottish Rite hospitality will prevail during the occasion and a large attendance of the membership is looked for during the three days of the reunion, not only from New Castle, but also from the surrounding district.

Report Riot In Honolulu Area

HONOLULU, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Police and navy shore police early today broke up a riot between hundreds of sailors from the Honolulu naval base station and residents of the adjacent Damon residential district.

The rioting broke out around ten o'clock (Hawaii time) last night and it was nearly one a. m. before it was quelled.

It resulted from alleged beatings administered to sailors by inhabitants of the neighborhood, with sailors hurling bricks and stones through windows of scores of homes.

Joseph Guthridge, 75, dropped dead of a heart attack as sailors stored a house next to his.

Three automobiles, including a police car, were demolished, and police charged that many of the sailors were carrying bayonets.

Congress To Probe Surplus Disposal

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Congressman Herman P. Eberharter today disclosed plans for a congressional investigation into the agencies set up to dispose of surplus property.

Charging the agencies are a "misérable failure," Congressman Eberharter accused them of giving special attention to business firms and "brushing" off applications from war veterans. He said:

"Congress never intended surplus property disposal to be an avenue of quick wealth for a small group of citizens."

Meanwhile, Congressman Samuel A. Weiss said that he would re-introduce J. W. Copley, a former V. E. and director of veterans' affairs for the Small War Plants Corporation, who was suspended on a charge of insubordination.

Legion Post To Vote On Home

Option Has Been Taken By Committee On Wallace Block On The Diamond

POST WILL VOTE ON MATTER TONIGHT

Members of Perry S. Gaxton post American Legion, who are seeking larger quarters to accommodate their rapidly increasing membership, will vote on the matter of purchasing the Wallace block on the northwest corner of the Diamond at their meeting in the Legion Home at 8 1/2 o'clock tonight.

An option has been taken on the block by the home site committee, which must result in action this evening.

The block, while an old one built in 1898, is a substantial structure, and is four stories in height, with three large storerooms on the ground floor.

Membership in the post has grown by leaps and bounds in the past two months, and now is close to 1,000, making it necessary to secure larger quarters.

Plans for the entertainment of Department Commander Jim Murray here on November 27 will also be completed at the meeting. Commander Murray will appear here at a dinner meeting in the Cathedral as the guest of the Lawrence County Council, American Legion.

Tension Lessened Around Palestine

British Naval Maneuvers Off Haifa Tend To Help Lessen Palestine Unrest

JERUSALEM, Nov. 13.—(INS)—British naval maneuvers in waters off Haifa today served to highlight the importance attached in Palestine to a statement of British policy expected to be delivered simultaneously in London and Jerusalem.

J. V. W. Shaw, Jerusalem's acting high commissioner, anticipated arrival of the long-sought statement by British Arab and Jewish representatives to Government House to receive copies. They will not be distributed, however, until the government decisions have been announced in the House of Commons.

Tension which has gripped Palestine since the recent clashes between Arabs and Jews was not apparent today—a situation ascribed by many to the announcements of British clarification of policy.

Others, however, gave credit for this calm to the presence in Palestine waters of the cruisers Orion and Aurora, four destroyers and a fleet of British aircraft which have been very much in evidence.

Gen. De Gaulle Is Named President

PARIS, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Gen. Charles De Gaulle today was elected interim president of France by the constituent assembly.

General De Gaulle, who before the election of the constituent assembly was provisional president, was chosen in the first secret ballot cast by a legislative body in France in six years.

The French leader was made chief of the government by the unanimous vote of the assembly's 553 delegates.

Leaders of the assembly were named to proceed to De Gaulle's residence at Neuilly to inform him officially of his election.

Thousands See Great Victory Parade Monday

Armistice Day Observance By Veterans Of Lawrence County Spectacular Event

DANCE HELD FOR VETS AFTERWARDS

Last night's Victory Parade, sponsored by the veterans organizations of Lawrence County, proved one of the biggest and most spectacular held in recent years, but was marred by the fact that the weather was just too agreeable, and a crowd numbering many thousands from all over the county thronged the line of march.

They could not have been contained by a regiment of soldiers and crowded out onto the streets along the line of march, hemming the marchers into a narrow lane.

Philo Chief Robert D. Hanna who has been and all were proud to keep the line of march open, but they were just too badly outnumbered by those who wanted to see the parade.

Several miles long, a parade, several miles in length, moved out onto South Main street from various side streets, then on Mill street to South Croton avenue, where it turned left on Washington street to the Diamond, and thence on North Jefferson to the Legion Home, where it disbanded.

There were 11 divisions in the parade and 13 bands, some of them real crack marching outfits, and the crowd was delighted with their maneuvers and playing.

The float division was also a splendid one, and there were some particularly beautiful ones in the float division, or accompanying the marching unit, they represented. All carried banners giving the parade (Continued on Page Two)

Seven Japanese To Be Arraigned For Killing Fliers

MANILA, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Seven Japanese military policemen, including a colonel, will be arraigned by U. S. authorities Thursday on charges of beheading captured American flyers on Cebu Island.

Unlike the Yamashita case, there is no question of a commander's responsibility involved in the charges. The Japanese will be charged with outright murder, and no question of officers are concerned that all will be sentenced to the gallows.

The seven who are now in custody were identified as Col. Isamu Marimoto, Capt. Katsuhiko Tsunoda, Major Wataru Otsu, Sgt. Satoru Sato, Sgt. Isamu Mori and Sgt. Satoru Sato and Cpl. Takao Kashi and Masahiko Wada.

War Veteran Is Killed In Crash

HARRISBURG, Nov. 13.—(INS)—A 27-year-old World War II veteran was killed instantly last night when the automobile in which he was riding and another car collided at Harrisburg, less than 12 hours after he participated in the county's Armistice Day parade.

The victim, William H. Mowers, who was riding alone, suffered a skull fracture compound fracture of the jaw, fractured neck and shoulder and crushed chest.

Police reported that Mowers' machine collided with a car driven by Charles V. Hershman of Steelton. The victim was pinned beneath his wrecked machine.

Mowers served 28 months overseas with the army.

MURDER IS CHARGED

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 13.—(INS)—Washington county authorities today held Samuel Pasco, 68, a woodsman, of Washington, on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of Norman Koslosky.

Koslosky, a resident of Chartiers township, was found stabbed to death near a tavern November 3. The accused man was arrested in the home of a daughter in Chartiers, W. Va.

Nicholson Tells Engineers About Postwar Problems

Sees Great Period Of Prosperity Ahead When Current Labor Difficulties Are Settled

Addressing members of the Macdonald Shengango Valley Engineers society at their monthly luncheon meeting in The Castleton Monday evening, Capt. A. A. Nicholson, World War veteran, told the engineers that America faces one of the greatest periods of prosperity in its history when current labor difficulties are settled.

He pointed out that the tremendous part that engineering will play in this postwar development period, one which will call for all their skill with the development of so many new materials and processes which have been born during the war years, and which will be turned into peacetime products.

He pointed out that industry needs more public relations men to keep the public informed of industry's position.

Past President Harry L. McPraters, president in the absence of President Paul O. Dangley, who is recuperating following a recent illness of pneumonia.

The nominating committee, which will draw up a slate of officers for 1946, was named at this meeting, consisting of: Edward L. Davenport, Russell Forney and Jack Boyles. They will report at the December meeting.

The December meeting on December 10 will take place with the National Tube Company of Ellwood City as hosts. Following a dinner at 7 o'clock there will be an inspection trip through the plant.

"I don't see what all the shouting is about. What does the agreement on collective bargaining mean? It is provided in section seven of the Wagner act which has been on the statute books for 10 years."

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, was scheduled to present the industry's position on the wage issue in a radio speech to-night.

At the same time, Walter P. Reuther, vice-president of the UAW, made it clear that his labor group would fight any auto price increase asked to offset a demand for a 30 per cent pay boost. He called on car dealers and consumers to fight with labor against OPA's recalculation price formula which he termed "stupid."

he to buy Victory Bonds and help clear up the war cost, a gesture pertinent to the occasion, as veterans from both wars were marching in the parade which was sponsored by the veterans.

Crowds On Entire Route—All the way from Mill and Lutton streets to Jefferson and North streets, the crowd jammed the line of march.

On the northside of Washington street, between Mill and Apple Way, the parade moved before the reviewing stand, which held city and county officials, and officers of the various veterans organizations.

The parade will go down into history as one of the greatest ever held here, and it is doubtful if there was ever a bigger crowd which viewed such an event from the sidewalks.

Dance At Cathedral—Following the parade, open house was held in the post homes of the local veterans organizations, where sandwiches and refreshments were served, and there was a dance in the cathedral, which was participated in by veterans and soldiers and their lady friends. Here also refreshments were served, with ladies from the different auxiliaries assisting.

It was a fitting windup to an Armistice Day, which commemorated the cessation of hostilities in one of the greatest wars that this country has ever been involved in.

T. John Stoner was general chairman of the Armistice Day celebration; E. R. Swogger was parade chairman; Tom Edmunds, chief marshal; Arnold Barnesley, chairman of the band committee; Peter McGinty, chairman of the dance committee, with Thomas C. Sleighter, of Ellwood City, chairman of the Lawrence County committee American Legion, whose seven posts were in the parade lineup.

Part of the veterans group which marched in last night's parade turned out to be a real "lost battalion." When they reached the intersection of East Home street, for some unaccountable reason, the fourth division, composed of the various ladies auxiliaries, jumped the gun and cut the division snafu in two. This left the veterans trailing along behind the automobiles in the fourth division, without a band to march by.

The suggestion is that bus stops be at the southwest corner (on Mill street) for traffic going south; at the southeast corner (on Washington street) for traffic going east; at the northeast corner (on Mill street) for traffic going north; and at the northwest corner (on Washington street) for traffic going west.

United Engineering company men wore hat bands designating the plant they represented. In addition to a large delegation of employees, the company had a nice float leading.

About half an hour after the parade had ended last night, the traffic tangle down town had been largely straightened out, and most of the crowd had disappeared from the downtown areas.

Flaming red sky in the east early this morning is an indication of a change in weather conditions, Pa. News is informed.

Football season in Lawrence county is ended for the present season. All high school teams have completed their schedules.

Two West Pittsburg lads, both students at Ne-Ca-Hi, went hunting Monday and one, Billy Friday, bagged a red fox out around the Baldwin farm. His companion, Donald Capots, sighted a buck and two does, during the expedition.

In checking a 1945 calendar, Pa. News discovers that Easter in 1946 falls on April 21. It fell on April 1 in 1945.

Part of the veterans group which marched in last night's parade turned out to be a real "lost battalion." When they reached the intersection of East Home street, for some unaccountable reason, the fourth division, composed of the various ladies auxiliaries, jumped the gun and cut the division snafu in two. This left the veterans trailing along behind the automobiles in the fourth division, without a band to march by.

Downtown parade thoroughfares were littered with paper by spectators last night. Early this morning street workers cleaned the paper away before business house employees arrived for work. There was not as much paper torn or scattered last night as on V-J Day, Streets Director James Gibson reported.

Many veterans of the second world war in uniform took part in the parade last night, as well as veterans of the first world war.

Ellwood City had a sizeable delegation of both men and women in the parade, as well as musical organizations.

success" if attacked, but otherwise would not become engaged in conflict.

Under provisions of wartime lend-lease, the United States agreed to equip 39 divisions, 20 of which already have been outfitted. As few days ago, Wedemeyer said he expected that the U. S. would finish its commitment, equipping the other 19.

The Democratic league spokesman said reports that the U. S. will equip 70 divisions—31 more than originally committed—has "created concern" among many Chinese who "wonder what the U. S. policy is in China."

The undeclared "civil war" in China, which was marked by violent fighting between Communist and national government forces along the Great Wall approaches to Manchuria, appeared a step closer to settlement. That step was taken yesterday when Chiang agreed to place all major issues in dispute before the Political Consultative Council.

for the products of the great industrial nations like our own to raise the general levels throughout the world," he said. "We, like you, believe in an expansive economy and we see no reason why the need being so great, there should be any rivalry between us."

Attlee made only one brief reference to the atomic bomb conference which he is attending with President Truman and Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada. He said the conference is being held to "get together with all the nations of the world and consider what kind of a world it is necessary to have if civilization is to endure and if the common man in all lands is to feel secure."

"The old discontinuity of earth and sea has been replaced by the continuity of the air," Attlee said. "In our atlases that show the division of land and water of the countries and states, there should be a blank page which should represent the air to make our children realize that these old and historic divisions do not exist in the element in which men now move."

"If not now then in a few years the devastating weapons which are at present being developed may menace every part of the world."

The prime minister said that in facing world problems it is a great mistake "to think constantly of war and the prevention of war."

"We have to think rather of the best means of building up peace," he said.

Conference In Recess—Meanwhile, the atomic bomb conference between the three leaders remained in recess today, and the White House could give no clue as to when it would be resumed.

Presidential Secretary William Hassett said that he knew "nothing about resumption of the conference between the prime ministers and the president."

The atomic bomb conference was in recess yesterday while Attlee worked on his congressional address.

The White House continued its policy of making no statement regarding the scope or progress of the atomic bomb conference until its conclusion, with an implied statement yesterday that members of the British party with Prime Minister Attlee were talking too much.

No Statement Yet—Late yesterday, Hassett issued a statement in behalf of President Truman to the effect that the president was "honor bound" with the British and Canadian prime ministers to remain silent until the conference was concluded.

This came in the face of a "leak" from British sources outlining an Attlee proposal that the atomic bomb be turned over to the United Nations in an international pool.

The White House branded as "purely speculative" statements by British sources that the conference would be concluded and a joint communique issued either Thursday or Friday.

Continue Advance—In the naval-base city of Serabaya, meantime, British-Indian troops continued to advance, with virtually the entire city in their hands, the imperial forces dug out stubborn pockets of national extremists.

The extremists, armed with Japanese artillery, mortars and other weapons, offered bitter resistance and British warships standing offshore turned their naval rifles upon the rebellious hold-out positions.

British aircraft again supported the ground advance, which made good progress on the west bank of the Kali Mas river that flows through the city. The troops moved more slowly on the east bank, though, where resistance was more stubborn.

Awards Announced—The Croton W.C.T.U. has announced the awards in the poster contest held in the Croton school.

The pupils of the sixth grade art class, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Morfydd Brown, have prepared some splendid temperate posters. The prizes were awarded for the posters which presented the most effective interpretation of the idea of temperance as well as for excellent in drawing and composition.

Those winning prizes were, first, Kenneth McCart, second, Gerald Baker, honorable mention, Mary Ellen Mitchell, Helen Henle and Ethel Jones.

Judges for the contest were Mrs. Margaret Hogan, art teacher at the North street school; Mrs. Clarence Thayer, president of the East Side W.C.T.U.; and Mrs. Owen Shields from the Croton Union.

With New Castle Afro Americans

Old-fashioned revival services which began Sunday at St. Luke's A. M. E. Zion church are being continued the remainder of the week. Services start each evening at 7:30 o'clock, at which time Dr. James Lincoln Black of Cleveland, O. will speak. The evening the Williamson, C. S. P. choir, composed of 26 voices, of Campbell O. will sing. Great interest is being shown in these meetings.

Matthews Home From Vacation

Home after a vacation of two weeks, J. Leper Matthews, manager of the New Castle Water company, today commented upon the city water condition of ten days ago when it was necessary to use considerable chemicals to overcome the taste of the water.

This condition was caused by an industrial spill on one of the tributaries emptying into the Shenango river, and Mr. Matthews, when the plant was dumped into a stream and in two days it had reached New Castle. Immediately upon reaching the plant, content of the water drops were taken to correct the situation. It was a situation over which we had no control, as the plant was dumped into a creek in Ohio.

FAITH
GOOD BUSINESS
We wonder if, while the Government is selling Victory Bonds, it wouldn't be a good idea to sell some of the surplus war materials. This surplus material, purchased with money from the sale of Bonds, is deteriorating every day, and if sold, the money could be used to pay bills, in place of going in debt deeper and deeper.
Good, small business men, do not buy more goods when they have goods that will never be of any use to them, on the shelves.
The public is clamoring for this merchandise, and it would not only keep our debt down, but give a lot of unemployed, something to do.

HELLO FOLKS
GIFT GOODS
I am very much impressed with the Beautiful gift goods we have just received—Knick Knacks, Bridal Favors, Pictures, Ornaments. Our Company sends buyers to the New York and Chicago markets, and they pick up many beautiful articles that an ordinary store simply does not get a chance to see. So come in and look them over. We will not press you to buy—that's for sure. But if you like something, you will find the price right. We can wrap it as a gift, and we will mail it for you. If you want a mirror for your own home, we have them. We would be glad to see you.

Yours truly,

READING CIRCLE FEDERATION PLAY

At the November meeting of the Reading circle held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Burr Rogers, 719 Carlisle street, the prize-winning play "Wings of Victory" by Maude Hickman was presented as the program feature of the afternoon.

Those taking part were Mrs. J. Z. Rogers, Mrs. Laura Parker, Mrs. Henry Stone, Mrs. I. M. Henley, and Mrs. J. D. Long.

Mrs. Henley introduced the special guest of the afternoon, Mrs. Lucien Black, president of the Laureate County Federation of Women's Clubs, who spoke on the desirability of federation.

"In federation there is strength," she said, "for it is only by organization that clubs can achieve, and in addition, she pointed out, club work is a recognized form of self-expression and teaches religious and political tolerance."

Two representatives to federation committees, in addition to those already appointed, were named. They are tentative Mrs. M. M. Ingham, and international relations, Mrs. H. D. Harlan.

Mrs. H. D. Harlan gave a report of the county federation meeting held Oct. 17 at Epworth Methodist church. A report was given of the circle's sewing at Jameson Memorial hospital on November 7.

Mrs. M. M. Ingham was elected treasurer in place of Mrs. J. B. Bredt, resigned.

It was voted to contribute $10 to the United War Fund and Community Chest. Members answered roll call with a fact about the Alameda Home and took donations of foodstuffs for the home to the meeting.

Mrs. C. R. Kennaday announced that the next meeting of the circle will be the Christmas tea on December 10 at the home of Mrs. W. D. Stutzinger, Glenmore boulevard.

Members will take gifts for the Neighborhood House to this meeting.

Mable Wilson Lodge

Mable Wilson lodge No. 567 will meet on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the lodge rooms, South Jefferson street, and officers will be elected.

JUNIOR GUILD BALL SATURDAY EVENT

Plans have been completed for the annual Charity Ball and support of the Junior Guild of Jameson Memorial hospital which will be an event of Saturday evening November 17 at the New Castle Country club. Tickets will be 10 to 2.

Mrs. John W. McIlwraith is chairman of the Charity Ball with Mrs. Paul Dingley chairman of decorations. Mrs. James M. Smith, Jr., ticket chairman and Mrs. Gordon Klein chairman of entertainment features.

Large committees are working with these chairmen and Mrs. William S. Emley, president, to ensure the success of what promises to be an outstanding social event of the season.

On Thursday the guild will meet to sew in the hospital solarium from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. when work will be continued on the present project, robes for women. This will be the last sewing until after Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Russell Allen is chairman of sewing.

INTERNATIONAL GROUP TO MEET

International relations department of the Woman's club will meet Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. J. McIlwaine, 226 Fairfield avenue.

Mrs. James Rhodes will review a book dealing with the political life of India.

Group discussion of the atomic bomb and its relation to international affairs will also be a feature of the program. The meeting is open to all members of Woman's club who wish to attend.

Mrs. McIlwaine is chairman. Mrs. Herbert Kirk, co-chairman, of the international relations department.

L.A.B. Club

The dinner which was to have been held in the L.A.B. club in the home of Mrs. Anna McMann, of South Jefferson street, has been changed to the home of Mrs. John W. Shafter, Cunningham avenue, due to illness in the McMann home. The dinner will be held on Wednesday evening as originally planned.

GROUP ASSEMBLES IN MERCER HOME

Associates of the Mercer class of Highland U. P. church were graciously received Monday evening in the home of their teacher and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Mercer, of Meyer avenue. Mr. Mercer conducted the devotional period. Plans were made to send $25 as a Christmas gift from the group to Mr. and Mrs. Willis A. McGill, missionaries, supported by the church, who are serving in Cairo, Egypt.

During the evening "a round robin" letter was written by the members to Pvt. Harold W. Liversay, one of the group, who is attached to the armed forces. Novel games, supervised by R. H. Johnston, were enjoyed.

Dainty refreshments were served by candlelight buffet style by the social committee for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Book and Miss Eulah Ruthrauff, Mrs. Mercer, pointed at an attractively appointed table, centered with autumn flowers.

OFFICE CO-WORKERS FETE RECENT BRIDE

Girls of the Manufacturers Light & Heat company office were entertained at the home of Miss Dorothy Walker, 910 Temple avenue, Monday evening for a shower given for Mrs. Clifford O'Key, nee Ruth Gilliland, a fellow employee who has recently married. She was presented with a lovely gift from the group. Prizes for the evening's entertainment were captured by Miss Walker and Miss Marion Duff.

A lunch was served by Mrs. R. H. Walker, assisted by Mrs. Edward Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ippolito, Sr., of Clyde street, Wampum, announce the engagement of their daughter Dorothy Irene Ippolito and David Glenn Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Campbell of Wampum, R. D. 1.

No date has been set for the wedding.

McQuiston-Moore

Miss Lois Evelyn McQuiston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McQuiston, of Wampum, R. D. 1, and Walter Howard Moore, son of Mrs. Lula Brandon, of Wampum, R. D. 1, were married at a ceremony performed November 8 in the parsonage of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church, Castlewood, by Rev. L. R. Van Horn, their minister.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Wheeling, W. Va.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Moore are graduates of Shenandoah high school. She is employed at the A. & P. store in Ellwood City and he is employed by John S. Brown & Sons feed company in Ellwood City.

Statehood For Alaska?

The United States has long held a warm spot for Alaska, our most important northern territory. That respect has been enhanced by the hardships demonstrated by Alaskans when the Japanese threatened the territory with invasion.

A great many Alaskans want statehood. They would like to become the forty-ninth of the United States. President Truman and Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes are among American leaders who favor granting that equality to our brothers of the north.

Alaska will tend to become more important as the years pass, being strategically located in a military sense. It has untold mineral wealth. About the only thing Alaskans lack is easy communication with the states. Sea traffic is adequate, but the Alaskan who wants to come to visit us is still handicapped. Not yet can he mount his limousine and come a-motoring. Yet that is one of his fondest hopes.

There are a few roads in Alaska, especially since war necessities have built military highways. The Alcan route is a beginning, but spurs must be built to link terminals of the highway with Alaskan centers of population. Nor is the Alcan highway in shape for heavy use by civilian traffic.

Surfacing of unimproved portions of the Alcan and rerouting of some of its more treacherous sections will be a mighty step toward bringing equality to Alaska. When better roads are built, its settlement will no longer be so retarded.

We don't suppose there is a local man who hasn't dreamed at some time or another of eventually motoring to Alaska. This is particularly true of sportsmen who have been informed of the almost unlimited hunting and fishing possibilities along the Alcan route. So traffic will flow both ways.

When expansion founded on good roads takes place, Alaska will be completely prepared for statehood. May the State of Alaska be realized in the not-too-distant future!

Arguments On Military Training

The recent message on universal military training, delivered by President Truman, in which he backed up the suggestions of General Marshall on that important subject has served again to bring the problem into the limelight.

Those who oppose universal military training at this time cite examples of what has happened in the past to show that military training and universal conscription have not kept a nation out of war. They point to the recent experience of France. That country, they say, had universal conscription but this did not prevent its being overrun by the Germans. This of course is true. But the fact remains that the French, torn by political dissensions permitted their defenses to weaken to the point where the Nazis knew they could overrun the country in a few short weeks. France was not prepared in fact—only in theory.

There is an important lesson in this but it does not teach that military preparedness brings war. The fact is that something more is needed than mere universal military training, for a complete defense. Science and invention must keep up with the times until the period arrives when the lion and the lamb are willing to lie down together.

Proponents of military training point out too, that the lack of adequate defense and universal military training have not kept us out of war in the past. They say that we got into two terrible world conflicts within a period of twenty-five years, and in each instance we were unprepared for the conflict. It was only the fact that we were protected by an ocean on either side of us, and the enemy had to strike first nearer home, that saved us from more serious trouble than we encountered. Next time, the military men say, we wouldn't have several months, or a year or two, to prepare.

The kind of defense we should have and the amount of our military training is a question which can only be determined by the best minds of the country. But it is certainly true that lack of defense and lack of training have not kept us out of the war in the past. And France's plunge into the recent war was not due to military might but to her lack of the same.

Clumsy Artificial Limbs

The Veterans Administration, with the approval of Gen. Omar N. Bradley, is undertaking a $1,000,000 program of research on artificial limbs. The move is prompted by criticism of types now being supplied to veterans.

Seven major faults are found in the devices now being made, according to Dr. Paul E. Klopfer, director of research at the technological institute of Northwestern University, and chairman of the committee on prosthetic devices of the National Research Council.

These are listed as excessive weight, susceptibility to breakage, susceptibility to moisture and water, noisy working parts, clumsy arms and hands, joint weaknesses and hard surfaces.

It is time that these antiquated contrivances, many of which have seen little improvement since the Civil War, be discarded. Medical and mechanical science evidently has been remiss here. Although the best conceivable artificial arm or leg can be only an inadequate substitute for the member it replaces, preliminary study leads to the belief that much better ones can be made.

A committee composed of veterans who have suffered amputations will advise the Veterans Administration in the development of types which will be more useful, manageable and comfortable. Manufacturers will be asked to submit their wares and undergo comparison, if they expect to sell them to veterans.

The research should be aided and speeded as rapidly as possible. The present situation should be remedied without delay.

No Additional Holidays

Since World War II ended various new legal holidays have been proposed. In considering the proposals Congress should not increase the present total number of national holidays.

If events of the recent war are to be recognized, that should be done by shifting and combining existing holidays instead of creating new ones. A holiday doesn't have to be on an anniversary. For instance, Armistice Day and V-J Day might be celebrated together, on the anniversary of either event or on some other selected date. V-E Day and Memorial Day might be likewise combined.

Many people don't realize that Memorial Day has never been a truly national holiday. It was established after the victory of the North over the South, and the South has either ignored it or—since World War I, in which the South shared the victory—observed it half-heartedly. In the North itself, Memorial Day each year becomes less a sacred observance and more an excuse for motor races, motor jaunts and motor picnics. We might as well look at our holidays realistically.

Whatever it does, Congress will be wise to avoid hurried decisions which, once made, would be difficult to change.—Washington, D. C., News.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Vast Amounts Of Money On Loose

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The Securities and Exchange Commission, in its quarterly report on working capital of United States corporations, showed some interesting reading at this time when, behind the scenes, the bosses of our economy are sparring for position.

They show that, on June 30 of this year, the total current assets of American corporations was just under a hundred billion dollars—$99,300,000,000. To be a little more exact, that compares with total current assets in 1939 of $54,600,000,000.

Current liabilities have advanced by a much smaller margin. The figure in 1939 was $36 billion, and at the end of the first half of this year, $31 billion.

What has happened since the beginning of the war in Europe, is that the net working capital of American corporations has doubled, going from 24.6 billions to 48 billions.

There is an astonishing fact. It is more remarkable than the profit record established by American corporations during the war.

When you break it down a little, it is even more astonishing. For example, cash on hand and in banks has gone from 10.9 billions to 23.8 billions, and United States government securities from 2.2 to 22.2.

The latter reflects, of course, the large purchases of government bonds in the Victory drive.

The SEC points out that, in the third quarter of 1945, current assets would take another big jump. Tax refunds payable to corporations will bring about a rise in current assets, and a decline in current liabilities amounting to about four and a half billion dollars. It is likely that another big boost will be shown by carrying refunds and unused excess-profits credits.

It is small wonder, in the light of these figures, that the stock market is boiling over. Most American corporations, it would seem, will have ample funds to build new plants and establish new industries without going to the public to sell new stocks.

They can take the money out of vast reserves built up during the war. That means that those stocks now being traded in have a scarcity value. Optimists who foresee a postwar boom think of getting in on the ground floor by way of the stock market.

All this makes the conclusion seem inescapable that the slights on the tax gun were set much too low during the war. Too much money got away. That is a present danger which cannot be laughed off.

The Victory Loan drive was a substitute for drastic action that would soak up the excess money. They have been conducted with great zeal and considerable skill.

It is good to report that the current and final drive, according to treasury estimates, is up to schedule. The objective is two billions from individuals in E-Bonds, two billions to individuals in other types, and seven billions to corporation purchases.

These sums seem small in light of the vast amounts of money on the loose in this country. That is true even though it's also true that, in the aftermath of war, the totals set for the final Victory drive were probably the maximum that could be sold.

While the number of bonds cashed in is on the increase, the volume of redemptions is not overlarge. It has been going up since V-J Day, although the total for September—$500,655,000—was slight, in view of that for August.

For October, the final figures will show a 23 per cent increase in redemptions. This is nationwide, with the cash-in figures somewhat higher for heavily industrial states.

There are at least two reasons why this should be happening. Many persons put all their surplus into war bonds. Now, with wholehearted attack, they must spend part of all of their hoard. Others, who may not actually need to spend the money, feel a restlessness with the end of the war and a desire to "plunge a little."

But the hard fact is that the less plunging and the more money put into war bonds right now, the better chance we have for heavy solvency both as individuals and a nation.

CHANGING WORLD

Oh, if you fancy men have gone as far as they can go.

And learned as much of fact and truth as they were meant to know.

Read General Marshall's grim report of horrors we shall see. If ever war breaks loose again, and what the cost will be.

Think you that steel and stone are wide? Or height or distance wide?

The deadly missiles men will make some magic ray will guide. The atom bomb will blow to dust the strongest structures made.

And rockets through the sky will fly to keep the world asunder.

These things are but the early signs of wonders more and more. Now visioned are uncharted realms which science will explore.

Young men will probe earth's secrets deep and write the books anew. And change the world and all its ways by what they'll learn to do.

Man is the only animal that can be skinned and still live.

Marriage is often a business in which the man is the silent partner.

The trouble with a lot of ideas is that they won't work.

A certain character around town was badly in need of a pair of shoes. So he walked boldly into a shoe store and braced the owner.

Mr. Stevens, I need a new pair of shoes. Can you sell me a pair? I'll pay for them the next time I come into the store.

Being in a charitable mood, Mr. Stevens made the deal.

About two months later he bumped into the character on the street and said rather sternly, "Sam, I haven't seen any money for those shoes yet."

"No, sir. No, sir," stalled Sam as he tried to think of an excuse. But I haven't been in your store yet, have I?"

When the late President Roosevelt was a young lawyer just getting started in New York, he was retained to handle a difficult case.

The opposing lawyer was a very effective jury pleader and completely outshone his youthful rival in the argument to the jury. However, he made one fatal mistake—he orated for several hours.

As he thundered on, Roosevelt noticed that the jury wasn't paying much attention. So, playing a hunch when his turn came, he rose, waited for a moment for silence, and then said, "Gentlemen, you have heard the evidence. You also have listened to my distinguished colleague's brilliant oration. If you believe him and disbelieve the evidence, you will have to decide in his favor. That's all I have to say."

The jury was out only five minutes and brought in a verdict for Roosevelt's client.

There are times when fortunate are made as quickly as they are made when the average husband dies at an earlier age than the average wife and when, in consequence, more widows than widowers are left alone in the world.

Statistics show that a large proportion of widows are cheated out of their pittance and their fortunes by shrewd and sharper. Therefore it behooves every parent to put in a defense fund to protect fortunes or positions may be wiped out by misfortune. And if I had a family of sons, I would counsel them to avoid that type of girl who boasts of what they would not do.

Answer: A widow usually announces her daughter's wedding without making reference to her deceased husband.

Great Game Of Politics

Henry Wallace Is Most "Unhappy"

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—SOME OF Mr. Henry Wallace's admiring friends asserted the other day that the Secretary of Commerce was very unhappy about the lack of "crusading spirit" in the Truman Administration and the lack of ardor for "true liberalism" displayed by Mr. Truman himself. But that there was nothing he could do about it.

THAT LAST does not seem quite true. There is always one thing he can do about it. He can resign. Perhaps that has not occurred to him but if his feeling is correctly reported, resignation would not only appear the decent thing for a man to do but in Mr. Wallace's case it would also appear the logical course—and one in conformity with his attitude at the time of his Senate confirmation.

AT THAT time Mr. Wallace's friends said that he would not want to be Secretary of Commerce if the great powers of the RFC were taken away. However, after the Senate had taken away those powers, Mr. Wallace did take the job though his friends—after the vote—said that in its emasculated form it did not interest him and he probably would give it up when the war was over. Now, though Mr. Wallace is "unhappy" about Mr. Truman and the future of his Administration to "create peace," there is no suggestion of his giving up the job. On the contrary, his friends argue that he must stay on so as to do what he can "from the inside."

But that is not a sound argument. No man should stay in a President's Cabinet—and few men would want to—who are "unhappy" about his policies or him. Under such conditions the right thing is to get out.

particularity if there is any thought of running for the presidency in 1948. Perhaps Mr. Wallace has no such thought. Perhaps he recognizes the inevitability of Mr. Truman's re-election in 1948—but he has friends who think along these lines and it is no secret that the CIO and the radical groups generally prefer him to Mr. Truman.

THE truth is that Mr. Wallace should never have been Secretary of Commerce. His extreme pro-labor views make him hostile to business and to the Secretary of Commerce to be hostile to business is an absurdity. One rather expert and honest from the Secretary of Labor but not from the Secretary of Commerce. His job is to promote business interests, big and little. The Wallace attitude was again shown the other day in the Labor-Management Conference. His participation in the conference is as an official and he with Mr. Roosevelt and the president's office, Judge Stanley, have been designated as representatives of labor or industry but of the public.

ON THE first day, Mr. Wallace showed his idea of how the public should be represented in making a strong speech supporting the CIO position that definite wage increases must be considered by the conference. Neither the AFL nor the industrial representatives are in accord with this notion. It was not on the agenda. It had not been urged by the President. It was opposed by John L. Lewis, the Railroad Brotherhoods and Mr. William Green. It was entirely a CIO proposal and Mr. Wallace, in his speech was playing the CIO game in the conference and not that of the President, the other labor factions, industry or the public.

But no one should be surprised at this. The CIO, Mr. Wallace's labor faction, Mr. Wallace is the CIO's favorite public man. Mr. Murray and Mr. Hillman are its boom friends. If there is any issue, measure, or proposal upon which these three do not see eye to eye it has not been mentioned. The completeness with which Mr. Wallace is the CIO's equal only adds to the completeness with which the CIO is anti-industry.

THIS makes it as silly to have Mr. Wallace Secretary of Commerce, where he is supposed to promote the interests of industry, as to have him a delegate to this Labor-Management Conference in representation of the public. Mr. Wallace may be as his friends insist, unhappy about Mr. Truman and his inability to "do anything about it." But to some it will seem that Mr. Truman has more reason to be unhappy about Mr. Wallace's attitude toward the Cabinet and being unable to do anything about it. Perhaps, as business, it all should be the proper as a whole, perfectly helpless to do anything about such anomalies in their government.

TRAINING DAUGHTER FOR CAREER

We have a daughter, 21 years old, who finished college in June. She has since been staying at home, which is most satisfactory to me.

My husband does not agree with me. He thinks she should do some kind of work, even though we do not need the money. He gives her an allowance but is still insistent that everyone should be trained to earn a livelihood. Don't you think that is ridiculous since we definitely do not need the money?

Answer: If I were as rich as Croesus and had but one child, a daughter, I would educate her for a career. Unless she showed talent for writing, illustrating or writing, I would insist that she take a commercial course.

Wilson Quip Is Quoted By Forrestal
He Said People Either Swell Or Grow
Government Pays President's Secretaries

By HELEN ESSARY
(Central Press Columnist)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Secretary of the Navy James Forrestal explained his presence at a recent banquet in a black tie instead of the more elegant "tails" by saying:

"Bernard Baruch just told me how Woodrow Wilson described what happens to people who come to Washington to live. They either swell or grow. The latter, I said, I always knew Mr. Wilson was a man of discernment."

When I went to try on my tails for tonight's dinner, I realized what a great prophet he really was. Several years in the capital have made me a living proof of the first half of his axiom. Even an old-fashioned buttonhook couldn't get me into my evening clothes. That is why I am unable to do this occasion in national honor it demands.

Speaking of Bernard Baruch, he has, undoubtedly at the head of more tables in banquet halls than any living American Representative. Sol Bloom used to have the record. But I suspect Mr. Baruch has outdone him.

Presidential Secretaries

Contrary to general belief, the secretaries of the late Franklin Roosevelt and of Mrs. Roosevelt were not paid by Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt personally. They were paid by the government. Miss Malvina Thompson and Mrs. James H. Thompson, confidential and social secretaries to the Mrs. Roosevelt, were on the government payroll.

In the present White House scandal, Miss Beulah Odum has been detailed from a government department to aid Mrs. Truman and her daughter. It is the custom to detail assistants from other government offices to work at the White House.

In a phone call just now, an old Washingtonian has just told me:

"It is not unusual for first ladies to dress their own cars. Mrs. Hoover was often seen wearing around at the wheel of her little motor car in Baltimore, Philadelphia and many main times in Washington."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

GETTING CHILDREN TO MEALS

Many parents spend an enormous amount of time looking about the neighborhood at mealtime for the child over five or six. Through this practice they not only waste a vast amount of energy but also rob the child of responsibility, retarding his healthy character growth.

The mother of three children, 7, 5 and 3, has some responsibility for preparing the meals and getting these youngsters to them when these meals are served. Writes:

"I think we enjoy one another more than any family I know of, but the problem which has caused the most acrimony to be wasted is that of getting the children to dinner and supper."

Five Minutes Warning

My system has been to give the children about 5 minutes warning, and then if they are at the table within one minute after supper is announced by the clock 6 minutes later, they get spanked when they do show up. They are over their cups in a few minutes and at the table ready to eat. The father's rule, the meal is ruined by the punishment and crying and they may have undereaten for several hours.

"As he points out, my system is a failure because even now after three summers, a week never goes by that at least one meal is not ruined for him by my having to punish one or more of the children for not coming on time. I've never once spanked when the time is up. His solution is to put the child to bed and deny it took altogether until the next meal."

Tried Plan

She says she tried this plan for a while and it did not work, in spite of the fact that one child already underweight, lost heavily. It seems the father dislikes her system of summing up the children, which is as follows: I go to the foot of the stairs and call upstairs. Getting no response, I go to the basement steps and call down to the workshop. Thence to the two outside doors. These failing, I use a loud referee's whistle.

As I wrote this mother, her plan would probably settle the matter permanently if the father would approve. So long as the children know it is so stated up over the Goodwill, it will work.

Negotiations Are Resumed In Effort
To End Talon Company Strike
At Meadville

(International News Service)
Strikes today kept more than 9000 workers idle in western Pennsylvania as negotiations were resumed to end the Talon company walkout at Meadville.

Talon officials and representatives of the AFL-International Association of Machinists were scheduled to resume talks that will end the strike of 3700 employees at Meadville and Erie.

At the Kenosha Manufacturing plant in Pittsburgh 400 CIO-steelworkers remained idle in a wage dispute while 5000 workers at the Ford City and Creighton plants of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company remained idle over wage adjustments.

About 450 drivers and terminal employees of the Greyhound bus line in Pittsburgh were idle as part of the 13-state strike against the company.

Meanwhile, CIO union and Westinghouse Electric Corporation representatives resumed negotiations in Pittsburgh on a previously rejected union demand for a $2 a day wage increase.

Local 601 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers is scheduled to call 2200 workers to a meeting tomorrow to discuss striking.

Pittsburgh employees of the General Electric company are backing the $2 wage hike demand and "will strike if necessary," William Risner, business agent for local 623, announced.

Bowles Opposes Exemption Demand Of Auto Dealers

Bays Dealers Are Objecting To Absorbing Some Of Increased Cost Of New Cars

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(INS)—OPA Administrator Chester Bowles today defied what he termed the nation's greatest "single pressure group—the auto dealers of the nation."

Appearing before the House small business committee, with hundreds of congressmen and dealers jamming the hearing room, Bowles opposed demands of auto dealers that they be exempted from the OPA cost reduction policy.

The auto dealers are objecting to a reported decision by OPA to make them absorb some of the increased cost of new cars in an effort to keep the price at pre-war levels. At issue is an OPA determination to reduce the dealers' discount on new cars from a pre-war margin of 24 per cent so as to absorb the increased price.

To Issue Order Thursday
Bowles told the committee that the OPA planned to issue its order affecting auto dealers on Thursday.

"Cost absorption which we will require of dealers in 1946 will not exceed four or five per cent," he added.

Bowles told the committee, headed by Rep. Patman (D, Tex.), that more than 5,000 telegrams were received by members of Congress last Wednesday and Thursday when the hearings opened.

"I was forewarned some months ago that if OPA did not give automobile dealers an exemption from our usual requirement of cost absorption that this would happen," Bowles said.

"I was told that their association claims to be the most powerful organized group in the nation," Bowles continued.

"Two and one-half years in Washington have made me something of an expert on pressure groups, lobbyists, and pressure tactics. I have been alarmed at the tendency on the part of some to feel that Congress and governmental officials should make their decisions, not on the validity of a particular issue, but on the measure of pressure which could be focused on any given point."

Bowles told the auto dealers that their own best interests was in a healthy national economy—"in the long run greater than their interest in a few extra dollars of inflated profits in 1946."

Bowles assured the auto dealers that 1946 "after all necessary cost absorption, will be easily the most profitable year in their history."

"We are sitting uneasily on a keg of dynamite," Bowles told the committee, "and they (the auto dealers) are asking us via Western Union, to put the fuse to the keg."

Interpreter in conversations during which Yamashita was said to have advocated extermination of all pro-American Filipinos.

Relate Jap Slaughters

Prosecution witnesses, meanwhile, told how the Japs slaughtered 7,000 men, women and children at Calamba, Laguna province, last February 12. Some told of the dynamiting of the Manila cathedral where the witnesses charged, the Japs had raped young girls.

Two Americans took the stand to describe the cold-blooded murder of two of their countrymen by the Japs.

The two American witnesses—Paul Hennessey, a mechanical engineer, and Clyde Dewitt, a lawyer—said they saw George Louis and Pat Held, both United States citizens, murdered at Los Banos internment camp, south of Manila.

Louis was shot just after he had returned to the camp. An intern committee protested the shooting and the Jap commander, Maj. Iwanaka, ordered a soldier to put another bullet through the already wounded victim's head.

Hennessey told the tragic story of the apparent systematized starvation of 2,243 American internees at Los Banos. Rations were reduced, he said, to the point where the internees were getting only 100 grams of rice daily and even pigs died of starvation.

The sisters of the convent later presided and plans were made for all members to receive holy communion once a month and to have a record kept. Vice president, Mrs. Maria Iovannella, announced that mass on Saturday morning November 17, at 8 o'clock, will be for the poor souls.

December 13 is the election of officers. After the meeting, Mrs. Carmela Zarilla led in the reciting of the rosary.

Two Pickpockets Arrested Here

Detectives Chief McMullen and Detective Moore last night arrested two reported to be nationally-known pickpockets at North and North Mill street and they were being held today on an open charge pending an inquiry to ascertain if there were any pocketbooks stolen here last night.

One was reported stolen. The men are recorded as "Dave Daugherty" and "William Duffy," both of Pittsburgh. They came here because of the Armistice night parade. The detectives spotted them at Mill and East Washington street and placed them under arrest at North and North Mill street.

During the night the two pickpockets, who are listed as such by the FBI and local police (both having been arrested here years ago by Detectives Moore and Lynch) telephoned various persons to come to their aid. However, Mayor John F. Haven held them for a hearing later today pending an inquiry into connecting them with actual thefts during the parade.

S-Sgt. Dave Speed Given Discharge

S-Sgt. David G. Speed, who has service with the 26th Yankee Division, which went in at Normandy at the start of the invasion and distinguished itself in the capture of Cherbourg, has received his honorable discharge from service and has returned to his home at 319 Sanson street. He is the son of J. Nick Speed, World War I veteran.

Sgt. Speed was discharged recently at Camp Robinson, Ark.

Republican Women Of State In Session

Convention Opens In Harrisburg
With Approximately 1000 Delegates In Attendance

HARRISBURG, Nov. 13.—(INS)—The 23rd annual convention of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women opened today at Harrisburg with approximately 1000 delegates prepared to define the organization's role in the pivotal 1946 elections.

Post war adjustments as well as the council's political program were the subjects for discussion during the three-day meeting. Delegates will represent more than 40,000 members.

As the first peace time convocation since 1941 got underway, Mrs. Meade D. Deweller, Jr., of Bowmansdale, was elected by the nominations committee to head the organization during 1946. Succeeding Mrs. John Y. Huber of Haverford, Mrs. Huber was elected to retirement after serving three terms.

The committee's action was considered tantamount to election Mrs. Deweller, treasurer of the council since 1937, heads the Penbrook Council of GOP Women.

The panel of speakers included Gov. Edward Martin, GOP National Chairman, Herbert Brownell, Jr., Gov. Sharon Williams, of Kentucky, Gen. Walter H. Judd, of Minnesota, GOP State Chairman M. H. Taylor, of Harrisburg; Attorney General James H. Duff, of Carnegie; State Secretary of Welfare S. M. R. O'Hara, of Kingston; Mrs. Hannah Durham, of Allentown, a member of the Post War Planning Commission; and Miss Lillian E. Schlagenhauf, assistant attorney general of Illinois.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

way. Russia is determined that Germany shall be dealt with as it (Russia) sees fit. Great Britain is determined to rule its dependencies in the same manner in which they have always been ruled. The so-called Labor government of Great Britain has the same idea of world dominion as Great Britain always had. We, the United States, are called upon to finance the rest of the world. And thanks to the Bretton Woods Conference we are expected to join in a world organization with a Bank, if you will, controlled by this world organization. They don't expect us to have very much to say about the Bank, except put the money into it. We are supposed to feed Europe and the Japs are asking for food also.

As though there was not sufficient confirmation of the real fact that "there ain't going to be no more Peace," the revolutionists in Argentina, in Bolivia, in Venezuela, in China, in the Dutch East Indies and Eisenhower tells us that we had better be prepared for an uprising in Germany itself. It seems that Hitler and his cohorts are not the only trouble makers in Germany. The young men in Germany are restless.

And then, too, to cap the climax, we have practically a Revolution here at home. We are trying to reconvert ourselves into the idea of a peaceful future—full employment and high wages; high wages with no raising of the ceilings on prices for goods manufactured and sold. In other words, the revolutionists want the same old thing—they want their cake and they want to eat it. Now, if any band of politicians, Republicans, Democrats or New Dealers, can devise a method by which we can have Peace at home, Peace in Europe, Peace in Asia, Peace in South America, we are going to see one gorgeous miracle.

I believe this nation had better get back to first principles: be a first-class isolationist nation—look after ourselves; feed no one, let them get their own feed; loan money to no nation without time security; if such security can be had; again resume our position on tariffs; protect our home industries; buy from business men from other nations, yes, but what we need and what we can't make ourselves and sell to business men of other nations that for which they can pay; maintain our Army and our Navy on a war footing, as that is the only way that Peace can be maintained.

The advice of Roosevelt I still believe the best advice to give to Washington. "Tread lightly, but carry a Big Stick." In other words, let the rest of the world take care of themselves and possess a very high regard for the "Big Stick." No man of any nationality or any race or any religion respects any rule, whether of law or morals, except by reason of force. The Golden Rule has never been, and probably never will be, observed by any individual or set of individuals, as long as the human race remains constituted as it is.

It will be remembered that the Lord God Almighty once became very angry with the race of men which he had created and destroyed them with the exception of one family. He may eventually destroy us all. We don't know much about the Atomic Bomb, but the hand of God may be visualized in it.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Congress will recess? I want to go home for a few days' holiday. I respectfully suggest that Congress appoint a committee to find out whether or not it is going to recess. Call the little group.

The Committee to Investigate the Possibility of Senatorial and House Adjournment in the Interest of Better Legislation and for the Protection of the Welfare of the people. Or, if you prefer a shorter title: "Committee to Get Congress Out of Town."

A letter from indignant Americans. I'm pretty annoyed with David Cohn for that. Cohn is an American woman. Mom is a Jerk. Cohn says the reason so many American soldiers have lately married foreign women is because foreign women are more loyal, more amusing, more considerate, more aware of their own responsibility to marriage than the spoiled American woman.

"Ridiculous! I have lived in many parts of the world. Many foreign women are excessively drunk and hard working when they are living in the countries of their birth where customs and the superior male have kept them subservient.

"But watch the foreign wife when she has had a touch of American independence and opportunity. She outdoes her spoiled American cousin by 20 times three. Wait a while and see how these new foreign women of American soldiers behave after a few years in the United States."

WAYNESBURG—A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Campride of Millsboro had two fully formed lower teeth. Physicians reported that children born with teeth occur only one in "many thousand" births.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of filtering the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 quarts a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pain, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Treatment of such kidney trouble with amazing and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully for millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives you relief and will help the kidneys filter out the excess acids and waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Runaway Wife Marries Boy Of Sixteen Years

OROVILLE, Calif., Nov. 13.—(INS)—Oroville police said today that Mrs. Eleanor Devony, 25, faces possible loss of her two children for her self-asserted love of a 16-year-old Lithuanian.

The runaway wife of a corporal overseas and her boy lover, 23, were found in a rooming house in Long Beach, Calif., from where they fled last Wednesday.

The adolescent Lithuanian who, it is alleged to Denver and married Mrs. Elaine Ludlum Montford, 22, also the mother of two children, is being held for juvenile authorities. Oroville police said Mrs. Devony, booked as a "missing person," is in custody for authorities in Long Beach, where she may face child abandonment charges. Evidently in possession of $100 for her juvenile consort, Mrs. Devony, 25, was found in a rooming house in Long Beach, Calif., from where they fled last Wednesday. "I knew how old he was. But it didn't make any difference. He's the kind of man every girl dreams matter, they are not inclined to accept the procedure with alacrity. Unless he is willing either to discipline himself to stand back of his mother.

I suggested that, instead of paddling or spanking the offending child, he should have to sit in a chair, say 40 minutes for the eldest and 25 for the youngest, for each offense, before eating his meal, while the rest went on eating as if nothing irregular had happened; that the eldest be provided with a watch and be held responsible for informing the other children of the regular time to be on hand for the meal; that if he be not given a watch, he be required to check on the time at the nearest neighbor. While regularity may be desirable, the mother also needs to economize on her own stomach pangs. If the father developed a sane philosophy, his juices would adjust themselves better, and if the children were held rigidly to the plan, their juices, too, would become themselves better. Moreover, the older children would help the

Five Schoolboys Drowned In River Near Pittsburgh

Lose Lives When Boat Overturns While They Are Hunting For Wild Ducks

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Rescue squads today planned to resume their search for the bodies of five West Elizabeth schoolboys who were drowned in the Monongahela river near Pittsburgh while chasing ducks.

The search party was forced to give up dragging the swift waters of the river last night when a heavy fog settled over it.

Those drowned when their skiff upset near a dam were William Harding, 16, Merle Kettering, 13, Clifford Williams, 14, Robert Baker, 12 and Charles Lewis, 14. All were drowned a short time after they were dismissed from school for the Armistice Day half-holiday.

Three other boys in the duck chasing party—Carl Kiefer, 12, William Stone, Jr., 13, and William Horne, 14—were rescued and reported recovering from exposure and cold. They were taken from the icy waters by the skipper of a tug boat who cut his tow and swung into midstream to pick them up.

A 14-year-old girl, Norma Hines, who witnessed the tragedy said: "The boys had flushed out a duck below the dam. They rowed their flat-bottomed skiff close to a concrete pier, apparently with the intention of climbing on an iron ladder up the side. Just then the boat was sucked into the swirling waters pouring over the dam and overturned."

CARLISLE—The army's proposal to move the 188-year-old medical field service school from its historic site on the outskirts of town has not prompted so much rebellion since revolutionary times. Col. Philip Mathews, a member of Gen. John J. Pershing's staff, is leading the opposing forces.

Philadelphia To Acclaim Marshall

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—(INS)—General of the Army George C. Marshall returns to his native Pennsylvania today to be acclaimed at Philadelphia for his part in the victory over the Axis.

A native of Uniontown, the general was slated to visit Independence Hall and view the portrait of one of his famous ancestors, John Marshall, first supreme court justice in Philadelphia, the army chief of staff was to embark on a lengthy parade through most sections of the city this afternoon.

He will be the guest of honor and the principal speaker at a dinner given by the Pennsylvania commandery of the military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States. Among the other guests were scheduled to be Gov. Edward Martin, Maj. Gen. Philip Hayes, commanding general of the Third Service Command, Rear Admiral Milo F. Draemel, commandant of the Fourth Naval District, and Philadelphia's Mayor Bernard Samuel.

Last Year Couldn't Have Been Like This

Turn and turn about is fair play, according to the old saying, and this seems to be our turn to have an easy season. Whatever the weather was like last year at this time, it probably wasn't like Monday.

It wasn't so warm that the doors to downtown shops stood open, and countless windows were thrown open to the elements. It wasn't the kind of day that made people stop in front of florists' windows to look at bulbs, or that guided them into hardware stores to check up on the possibility of getting a new lawn mower.

It wasn't the sort of day on which you found people with their coats on their arms, if they had coats at all, or the sort of day when high school boys stood on the corner eating apples and try to decide whether or not to take a hike.

But Monday was that sort of day, and that is the sort of thing that people were doing Monday. It was rumored around town that the weather had been specially arranged for the benefit of the youngsters who had an Armistice Day vacation to celebrate.

Warns That Axis Must Not Regain Places Of Power

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—(INS)—A warning that the world will never have peace if Germany and Japan regain "places of power" was issued last night by Gov. Edward Martin.

"We must remember that the peace we now have is a peace of force and fear," the governor stated in an address to members of the Army and Navy Legion of Valor at Philadelphia.

"Germany, by force, was brought to its knees," he said. "Japan, with an army of 5,000,000 intact, surrendered in stark fear, but it ever given the chance Japan will strike again."

"Nazi philosophy still lives and the Japanese still dream of controlling all Asia and the South Pacific," Governor Martin stated. "We will never have peace with such countries in places of power."

"We may talk about a new world order, but before it can bring about permanent peace there must be a spiritual desire to live in the spirit of brotherhood," he added.

"Until that time comes, armies and navies are necessary and the ideals of America must be preserved and guarded," the governor said.

JAMES E. PEW TO HEAD DIVISION OF SUN OIL CO.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 13.—(INS)—J. Edgar Pew, vice president of the Sun Oil company, announced today the appointment of James E. Pew as manager of a new division of natural gas and natural gasoline.

Pew said the division, which will function as part of the company's production department, will be part of a program for the conservation and efficient utilization of gas reserves.

Pew simultaneously announced the appointment of Charles E. Wember as assistant. Headquarters will be in Philadelphia.

FIND MISLAID SOLDIER BALLOTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Election officials wondered today what to do with a carton containing 300 war ballots cast by Brooklyn servicemen which has just been found, unopened, after being mislaid Nov. 6.

The carton was one of five pushed by automobile from Albany Nov. 6 for tabulating. The others reached their destination but the fifth unaccountably was left in a corridor in the Brooklyn municipal building, unnoticed ever since.

There is little chance that the unopened ballots would have any important effect on election results—but their discovery puts election officials right in the middle of an unprecedented legal pickle.

State's Motorists Use More Gasoline

HARRISBURG, Nov. 13.—Gasoline consumption by Pennsylvania motorists, although registering a slight decrease since the post V-J day spurt, is nearing normal rapidly, the state department of revenue reported today.

Latest liquid fuels tax revenue figures on file in the department showed that state drivers used 118-101,613 gallons of gasoline in September. This was a decrease of approximately 20 per cent from the August figure, but almost 23 per cent more than in the corresponding month of 1944.

Clare Hanna Is Hurt In Accident

Mr. and Mrs. William Hanna of Shenango township have heard their son Clare of Compton, Calif., was seriously injured Saturday, November 10, in an accident. Mr. Hanna was testing a motorcycle and had repaired in his shop and an automobile drove out from a side street, hitting him.

His left leg was badly shattered, the knee cap being almost destroyed. He is in the hospital and physicians say his leg will be in a cast for months.

Churchill Given Award By France

Former British Prime Minister Presented Grand Medal In Front Of French Savants

PARIS, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill was presented with the grand medal of the academy of moral and political sciences Monday at a meeting in the historic institute of France.

In the presence of a distinguished group of French savants, writers and diplomats, Charles Roux, president of the institute and prominent career diplomat, introduced Churchill as "the most illustrious Englishman."

He recalled that a year ago the academy of moral and political sciences elected Churchill to membership by acclamation in recognition of his pledge to restore France to her former greatness.

"All Frenchmen honor the magnificent example of your glorious career," Roux told Britain's wartime premier.

Responding in French, Churchill declared that "the world has seen France advance from the dark days of defeat to take a real position among the great free nations dedicated to peace."

"I know," continued Churchill, who was accompanied by his daughter, Mary, "that the genius, culture and power of France will help build a new, free, happier Europe."

The former prime minister said he hopes to come often to admire the scenery and sunshine of France, where he feels "completely at home."

Dr. R. F. Galbreath Speaks At Assembly

St. Jackson S.S. District Has Sessions In Bessemer Presbyterian Church

"Peace Be Unto You" was the theme of the yearly convention of the St. Jackson district of the Lawrence County Sabbath School association which took place Sunday in the Bessemer Presbyterian church.

During the afternoon session Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of Westminster college, was the main speaker. Dr. Galbreath contributed a timely as well as informative talk upon the theme of the assembly.

An "Information Please" discussion period, in which Mrs. B. F. Johnson, Rev. James Crawford and E. Chester Crabbs participated, featured the evening session.

Later Robert M. Strickler, president of Lawrence County S. S. association, installed the following officers: president, Clifford S. Perre; vice-president, Norman Emery; secretary, Mary Alice Winger; and treasurer, Guy M. Pullerton.

Departmental superintendents installed are: Young Peoples, Rev. James Crawford; Children's Division, Miss Lydia Carlson; Teachers Training, Rev. Marshall Wilson; Temperance, Rev. Jack Boyd; Adult, Rev. C. E. Chester Crabbs; Mission, Miss Holmes Braden; Administration, Lester Noyes; Parent Training, Rev. J. F. Hay; Religious Education, Miss Agnes Witherspoon; and Evangelism, Rev. Robert Dyer.

Dubois Librarian Will Speak Here

Carl William Hull, librarian at DuBois, Pa., will take part in the discussion of "Rehabilitation and the Library" at the morning session of the four-county library conference here on Thursday afternoon.

Miss Alice Sterling, head librarian in New Castle, will preside over the conference which will include delegates from Mercer, Butler, Beaver and Lawrence counties.

Mr. Hull is a veteran of the first world war, and also took part in the Red Cross distribution of books in the Panama Canal Zone from 1942 to 1944.

The morning session, which will be held in the assembly room of the library, will include a resume of the recent Pennsylvania Library Association conference in Harrisburg and a talk by Werrill Jones, representative of the veterans' administration.

Following the noon luncheon, the afternoon session will be at the Castleton hotel and will include a panel discussion of new books. Mrs. Sara Caldwell of Ambridge will preside over the conference which will include delegates from Mercer, Butler, Beaver and Lawrence counties.

Newton Speaks At Forum Here

Duties, An Responsibilities Of Supervisory Management Ably Presented

"Duties and Responsibilities of Supervisory Management" were discussed Monday night in the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school by Thomas G. Newton when a forum was held by the Economic and Business Foundation of New Wilmington. Mr. Newton is the supervisor of training for the Armstrong Cork Company in Lancaster, Pa., and proved to be well equipped to handle his subject. Present were supervisory employees of various local industries in addition to some management representatives.

"We are prone to think of the supervisor's job in a light of the old days," said Mr. Newton. "Then he was pretty much of his own boss. He hired his own men, sometimes fired them with an absolute right, frequently enhanced his orders with a display of force, acted as judge and jury in the matter of hourly rates, ordered his own materials and in general he had few limitations upon his authority."

Job Has Increased
"Since the days of Ben Franklin, companies have grown tremendously in size which forced many changes in the foreman's job. As a consequence staff departments were introduced to provide the supervisor specialized in engineering, methods, personnel and so on. The change also brought some confusion, and in many quarters today we see cases where their relationship still has not been resolved."

The foreman's job in the days ahead will be one of importance. Mr. Newton told the crowd. Price controls are here for a long time he said which means manufacturers will have to sell goods at no higher prices in the face of added material and labor costs. Supervisory management must play a leading role in this picture as it must in the field of labor relations, he said.

Mr. Newton urged a clear designation of specific duties plus a responsibility for stewardship in the supervisory group. He then discussed the elements of successful management through planning and control, stressing each as vitally important.

Mr. Newton's address was well thought out and delivered with the authority of one who knows his subject from practical experience. A forum discussion followed the address.

Dr. A. M. Paxson, director of the educational division of the Economic and Business Foundation served as chairman of the meeting.

Protests Increase In Shipping Rates

JUNEAU, Alaska, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Gov. Ernest Gruening today sent a violent protest to Washington against the scheduled maritime commission hearing on proposals to raise steamship freight and passenger rates to Alaska as much as 100 per cent.

The governor reflected the bitterness of some 75,000 Alaskans when he charged that any increase in shipping charges would be a "death blow to the territory."

CALCIUM

Calcium or lime is a very necessary mineral in our diet. Bones and teeth need lots of it. Milk is perhaps the best provider of calcium.

Babies and children need more milk than older people do. Some children do not seem to be able to make proper use of the calcium in their food. They have poor teeth in spite of getting lots of milk. Perhaps the doctor can figure out the reason.

Milk and cheese and ice cream and sunshine are good for children.

BALTIMORE BOY KIDNAP VICTIM

Police Search For Missing John Grabowski Jr., Two And Half Years Old

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 13.—(INS)—A city-wide search was being pressed today for two-and-a-half-year-old John Grabowski Jr., son of a Navy enlisted man serving in the Pacific, reported kidnapped late yesterday.

Police said the tow-headed, blue-eyed youngster was taken from a courtyard near his home by a man who grasped the child by the hand and walked rapidly away with him.

A 10-year-old neighbor girl saw the man approach little Johnny and walk away with him. She attempted to follow the two but lost sight of them as the man increased his pace.

The boy's grief-stricken mother told officers she had been watching her son from a window of her second-floor apartment but she turned from the window a moment to answer a call from her younger son, Richard, a year old. When she returned to the window Johnny had disappeared.

A special detail of police searched a wide area surrounding the Grabowski home and officials throughout the state were notified to be on the lookout for the man and the child.

Sanctuary Given To All At Vatican

Congressman Tells Of Disclosures
Made During Visit To Vatican
In September

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Rep. Engel (R-Michigan) disclosed today that the Vatican gave sanctuary during the war to everyone who sought refuge there, including Communists.

Engel said he had been advised of this during a trip to the Vatican in September 17 in company with five other Congressmen and several Army officers.

The Michigan Congressman said that following an audience with Pope Pius, Franklin C. Gowen, secretary to Myron Taylor, American ambassador to the Vatican, told him that "people of all kinds—Jews, Communists, Socialists" fled to the Holy See and were protected from the Nazis and Fascists.

Engel was informed that included among the refugees were 6500 Jews, some of whom escaped to the Vatican by posing as priests, nuns and brothers.

Greatest Influx
"The greatest influx of refugees to the Vatican apparently coincided with the end of the war for Italy when the Germans took over Rome," said Engel.

Engel was a member of a War department appropriation subcommittee, headed by Rep. Snyder (D-Pa.), which toured Europe several months ago.

Gowen told me that anyone who escaped to the Vatican—which was neutral territory—was given sanctuary during the war," declared Engel. "No one was turned away. People of every kind sought refuge there, among them Communists and Socialists. All were protected."

"It was a wonderful lesson in tolerance, one that many people could well take to heart," Engel termed the Pope a "wonderful personality" and said "he made a hit with our group."

Nylon Deliveries Tied Up By Strike

READING, Pa., Nov. 13.—(INS)—Delivery of nylon stockings from hosiery mills in Reading was reported tied up today as an 11-day-old strike of truck drivers continued.

Robert W. Schell, district organizer for the AFL-Teamsters Union, which represents 400 drivers, said no date for renewal of negotiations had been made following failure to reach an agreement at a union-management conference.

Some 35 trucking firms are involved in the strike which is also impeding deliveries from other reading factories. The union is asking a $4 a week wage increase.

More Atrocities By Japs Uncovered

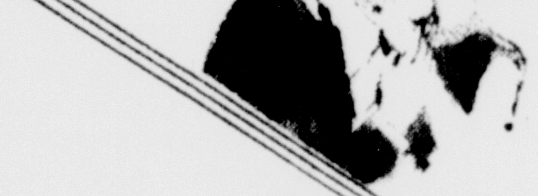

LONDON, Nov. 13.—(INS)—A Singapore dispatch to the London Daily Mail reported today that the "blackest atrocity" of Pacific warfare was recently discovered in Borneo when searchers rescued but six of a group of 1300 missing allied prisoners of war.

It was explained that the rest of the group had died during forced marches over rugged central Borneo terrain, or had been killed in Japanese massacres which continued as late as two months before the end of hostilities.

LEBANON—Although the Republicans swept the city of Lebanon and the county in the November 6 election, ninth grade students at the Harding Junior high school voting the same day voted two to one for the Democratic candidate in Belmonting at the school.

"3,000,000 Meals, Please!"

That's just about the order B&O dining car chefs will prepare this year. And, while it is a bigger job than any housewife ever faces, the difficulties we meet in doing it are very similar to hers.

Like all meal-makers, one of our problems is getting variety in our menus. To add as much appetite appeal as possible, we tap sources of supply in nearly every section of the country. In B&O diners you'll find seafood from Chesapeake Bay, carefully selected poultry and vegetables from the best markets and premium grade beef from prize-winning steers.

Yes, it takes a lot of planning and much hard work over many hot stoves to serve 3,000,000 meals, but we try to make every meal in a B&O diner a pleasant and long-remembered event.

We're proud, indeed, that so many people associate the B&O with fine food and courteous service . . . and we intend to keep it that way!

U. S. Proposal For Nazi War Crimes Trial Rejected

By PIERRE J. HUSS

NEWBERG, Nov. 13.—The Allied War Crimes Commission, by a vote of three to one, on Monday rejected a United States proposal that Alfred Krupp be substituted as a defendant in the trial of war criminals for his father, Gustav Krupp Von Bohlen and Halbach.

Von Bohlen, president of the Krupp armament plant, has contended that he is too ill to stand trial.

U. S. Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, American representative on the tribunal, disclosed that the United States had proposed that Krupp be substituted because "the future menace of the Krupp munitions works lies primarily in Alfred and I would rather take 10 days longer than the smallest chance of letting the House of Krupp escape judgment."

Speed Up Trials
Britain, Russia and France disagreed with this attitude in the interests of speeding up the opening of the trial.

Members of the tribunal from those countries voted to place Von Bohlen on trial with the remainder of those indicted as war criminals and, if he was too ill to appear, to try him in absentia.

With prosecutors in disagreement on the Krupp case, Justice Jackson sided with the tribunal today on an application opposing the elder Krupp Von Bohlen's recent motion that his trial be deferred until he is fit to appear in person.

The tribunal will rule on this motion Wednesday, when it will make a three-fold decision whether Von Bohlen be tried in absentia.

his name dropped from the list of the defendants, or another defendant be indicted for the House of Krupp.

In the last name event, Von Bohlen's son, Alfred Krupp, presumably would replace his father on the list of defendants, and it is estimated that a delay of at least 10 days in the opening of the trial would result.

Today's three-to-one vote, however, indicated that a trial for Von Bohlen in absentia would be the decision.

Naval Lieutenant Shot During Party

Maryland Candy Salesman Held After Shooting; Report Argument Over Woman

LEONARDTOWN, Md., Nov. 13.—(INS)—Candy Salesman George W. Booker today was being held in connection with the slaying of Naval Lt. Roger E. Wilson of Pittsburgh, who was shot during a party at Booker's home Sunday night.

Police said that the shooting apparently was the outcome of a quarrel between Booker and Wilson over the attention that Wilson was allegedly paying to the host's wife, an attractive 24-year-old matron.

The shooting occurred in California, Md., a small village about 12 miles from Leonardtown.

Booker was held without bail for a hearing next Friday.

Police said they had been informed during their investigation that there was considerable drinking during the party.

Wilson had been stationed at the naval mine testing station at Solomons Island, Md., in Chesapeake Bay.

During the course of the argument between Wilson and Booker, a shot was fired and Wilson fell to the floor, police reported. The naval officer died within a few minutes before medical aid could be rendered.

Two More Hunters Die In Accidents

Two Others Are Maimed In Accidents Over Armistice Holiday Period

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Two hunters, one a soldier, were dead today and two others were maimed as a result of hunting accidents that drew an increased number of nimrods into western Pennsylvania fields over the Armistice day week-end.

Private First Class David A. Johnson, 30, of Washington, and Franklin H. Hesel, 14, of Appollo, were dead, while Mike Harkivick, 15, of O'Hara township, and Joseph Thomas, 14, of Pittsburgh, were seriously wounded by accidental gun discharges.

Johnson was killed when his shotgun was accidentally discharged while hunting near Blaine township. He was home on a 45-day furlough prior to reporting for re-enlistment.

Hesel was fatally wounded when his rifle, in the hands of a companion Dean Newton, 15, also of Appollo, was discharged accidentally.

Cornet H. A. McMurray reported, Harkivick underwent amputation of his left hand after it was shattered by a double charge from a shotgun fired by a hunting companion, police said. The accident occurred near Sharpshooter.

The Thomas boy suffered the loss of his left leg after he was accidentally shot by his father, according to Chief of Police Sam Bickelstaff of Penn township. The boy had been wounded as he ran to recover a rabbit his father had shot.

Butcher Of Warsaw Enroute To Germany Under U. S. Guard

TOKYO, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Col. Josef Albert Meisinger, the so-called "Butcher of Warsaw," was enroute today to Germany via the United States in the custody of two American counter-intelligence officers.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters center near Frankfurt, Germany. Meisinger's name was linked with atrocities against Jews in the Warsaw area when he reportedly was a Gestapo leader. He will be held in Germany for possible trial as a war criminal.

Meisinger was captured last September 12 after his name appeared on Gen. MacArthur's original war criminal list. He has been held in the prisoner stockade at Yokohama where he denied reports of his activities with the Gestapo.

Gen. Eisenhower Makes Plea For Adequate Force

BOSTON, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, before heading for Washington today, climaxed his rousing welcome in Boston last night with a plea that an adequate U. S. force be left in Germany to assure enduring peace.

The five-starred general, with Mrs. Eisenhower, boarded a night train for the capital after asserting at a state dinner in his honor as guest of Gov. Maurice J. Tobin:

"I urge that American soldiers be returned to the United States as speedily as possible. But it is not easy to say that we must maintain a powerful force in Germany to keep the Nazis under suppression. We must see the job through to the end in Europe."

More Sugar For 1946 Estimated

Probably Million Tons More To Be Available Says Sugar Company Executive

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 13.—(INS)—George L. Wright, sugar company executive, predicted Monday that U. S. citizens will have from 800,000 to 1,000,000 more tons of sugar available in 1946 than in the current year.

Wright, who addressed the convention of the New Jersey bottlers of carbonated beverages, estimated that a total of 8,200,000 tons of sugar will be available from Cuba, Puerto Rico, Florida and Louisiana and domestic beet sugar production.

He said that withdrawals from this total by the army, UNRRA, and other foreign users will be substantially less in 1946 than in 1945.

He warned that sugar will be the last commodity to go off the rationing list, but he predicted that OPA may increase allotments to industrial users by 10 per cent and a little later, also increase the allotment to the housewife.

Why the Steel Industry Cannot Pay Increased Wages Now

Steel Prices were frozen by OPA at Pre-War levels—
Costs have Soared—Many steel products now sell at a loss—
Answer to present wage demands depends on steel price policy of OPA.

TODAY, because of government-controlled prices and high costs, many steel products are being sold at a loss. That is why the steel industry cannot now pay higher wages.

A demand for a general wage increase of $2.00 a day has been made by the United Steel Workers of America-CIO. In presenting this demand, Philip Murray served notice that this demand was not subject to "dickering or compromise". To enforce this demand, strike votes are being taken this month in the steel industry. Any general stoppage of steel production would be a calamitous blow to reconversion.

Increased wages cannot be paid out of thin air. Proceeds from sales of steel provide the only fund out of which wages can be paid. Today the ceiling prices imposed by the OPA do not provide a sufficient return to pay current costs of steel operations, let alone any increase in wages.

Present OPA ceiling prices for steel products are generally less than steel prices in 1937. However, labor and other costs in the steel industry have gone up tremendously. These ever-mounting costs have squeezed out virtually all of the profit originally contained in pre-war steel prices.

Accordingly, today steel producers are entitled to substantial increases in these ceiling prices. Many months ago they asked OPA for such price relief. OPA has not acted.

Collective bargaining conferences between steel producers and the Union have already been held. Nothing can be accomplished toward negotiating any wage increase until OPA performs its statutory duty. Under act of Congress, steel producers are entitled to ceiling prices which yield on each product a profit equivalent to that of the base period, established by OPA as 1936-1939.

Wages in the steel industry do not need to be further advanced to keep pace with increases in the cost of living since January, 1941. Increases in average straight time hourly earnings in the steel industry, (without overtime) between January, 1941, and August, 1945, rose 34 percent, or more than the advance during this same period in the U. S. Department of Labor index of the cost of living.

Today steel workers rank among the highest paid wage earners in American industry. In August, 1945, average straight time pay for steel workers was $1.15 per hour, without counting overtime pay. The end of the war has not eliminated all overtime in the steel industry, and a considerable period of time may elapse before the industry fully returns to a normal 40-hour work week.

Until OPA authorizes fair prices, nothing can be settled through collective bargaining.

Give Summary Of Progress In Re-Making Japan

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)
By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
TOKYO, Nov. 13.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters has issued a summary of the so-called "democratization" of Japan.
The summary set forth that the primary objective of the occupation is to destroy a feudalistic system to erect a toll for past misdeeds and to "create a nation of people who will forever lead a democratic way of life."
It was pointed out that this threefold objective must be accomplished through statehood, leadership and education.
The report said that through "massive spiritual and economic control" Japan's present governmental system was brought to a level of destruction comparable to the material ruins left by our army and navy forces.
Must Be Warning
Japan's defeat, it was said, must "serve forever as a warning that feudalism and aggression can not succeed."
Preliminary steps by Allied authorities, the report said, "have shocked the hierarchy of Japan's feudal caste beyond comprehension."
"Already assured to the dominated and regimented Japanese people," the summary continued, "is security and relief from their top-down domination and regimentation. This has been accomplished by smashing the trusts, destroying the diplomatic organization and guaranteeing freedom of speech, press, religion and education.

"Abolition of secret societies, military castes and feudal systems is a guarantee that the freedoms established may be maintained by a free people."
Japanese Labor Freed
The report pointed out that Japanese labor has been freed and given "the right to bargain—the right to secure favorable working conditions and reasonable wages."
Relief for farmers who were said now to be in a condition approximating slavery also was promised.
The report explained that the Japanese people must be taught the meaning of democratization because they must as a whole be made to feel their responsibility in the atrocious war which they supported.
When the Japanese are prepared to live as a free people, the report said, one of the objectives of the Potsdam agreement will have been fulfilled.
"There is nothing easy or soft about the life the Japanese must lead before they can be accepted as a peaceful nation," the summary warned in concluding.

State Exhibition To Show Operation Of Government Agencies

HARRISBURG, Nov. 13.—(INS)—An exhibit depicting the operation of the state government through the various departments and agencies opened at the state capitol today.
Gov. Edward Martin issued an invitation to the public to witness the three-day exhibition.
"There can be no doubt that knowledge of government and interest in how our state's business is conducted serves to stimulate good citizenship," he said.
Exhibits will show the progress made by the commonwealth in the promotion of health, welfare, safety, agriculture, mining, highways and other activities, he added.
"What is more important, the exhibit will portray what we are determined to achieve in the future through the comprehensive long-term development program which has been launched by the present administration," the governor declared.

Science Hall Arrangements Being Studied

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 13.—How to properly arrange a new science hall is the concern of faculty members of the science department at Westminster College and Dean John R. Spicer who have planned visits to nearby colleges to make a careful study of science building layouts.
Dr. Donald C. Matthews and Prof. Benedict Hall, of the biology department, Dr. Edward A. Metcalf and Dr. Charles Starr, of the chemistry department, and Dr. James A. Saunders, of the physics department, made their first trip to Grove City and Allegheny Colleges Saturday to hear suggestions from department heads on arrangement of laboratory and stock rooms and teaching methods.

New Hungarian Government Is Now Organized

BUDAPEST, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Zoltan Tildy, head of the small Landholders party which gained nearly 60 percent of the votes cast in last week's national election, today headed the new Hungarian coalition government.
Premier Tildy's party obtained seven key cabinet posts, while the Socialists and Communists each gained three such positions. The National Peasants filled the other position.
It was announced that the first session of the new assembly would be held on November 21.
Among the portfolios gained by the small Landholders were home ministry, defense. The Socialists were given justice, industry and commerce posts, and the Communists received the ministries of foreign affairs, transport and public works.

Student Fund Is Given Boost

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 13.—Proceeds from a bazaar group sponsored by the Student Union Memorial drive at Westminster College to $2,500. A goal of $5,000 has been set as the student's share in the annual campaign for a war memorial building.
Plans for the Student Union, which tentatively is to be sited at the corner of Orchard and Maple streets include a snack bar, lounge, dance floor, refreshment room, memorial lobby and offices for student organizations and publications.

St. Mary's May Get Sugar Bowl Bid Understood

Galloping Gaels Of St. Mary's Have Great Record For 1945 Season To Date

HOLY CROSS IS ALSO MENTIONED

BY LEO CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—St. Mary's scores an impressive victory over a fair U. C. L. A. team next Saturday, the Galloping Gaels may take the play away from Holy Cross as the leading quest for the Sugar Bowl classic in New Orleans on New Year's Day.

St. Mary's, which turned up yesterday with a 22 to 6 victory over Penn State, has beaten California and Southern California. The Gaels are ineligible for the Rose Bowl, but members of the coast conference. Yet you can take the word of L. Condi, Bob Meyer that St. Mary's is the only good team in the far west.

Saints Are Praised

Meyer, former Notre Dame, is chief head of St. Mary's program, whose football team is not to be confused with the Gaels. Meyer, back east after seeing most of the Pacific coast teams play, is singing the praises of the Gaels to one and all.

Both St. Mary's and Holy Cross are unbeaten and undefeated. Defensively, St. Mary's seems to have the edge. Holy Cross has been scored upon by Dartmouth, Villanova, the New London sub base and the U. S. Coast Guard Academy. St. Mary's after starting the season by beating California 20 to 13 held the opposition scoreless in five successive games, up until yesterday. Among the larger schools, this is the best defensive record in the country.

While four of these shutouts were registered against weak opposition, the feat of the Gaels in blanketing U. S. C. a week ago Saturday, 26 to 0 was impressive because the Trojans scored at least once in their seven other games this season.

Holy Cross Good

Holy Cross has only to get by Temple and Boston college to finish the season unbeaten.

In any event, St. Mary's seems a safe bet for some kind of a bowl bid—perhaps the Cotton Bowl, "Laird" and speedy, the Gaels have further crowd appeal because of their youth. Nearly half of them are under 18.

Pitt Preparing For Indiana U.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 13.—(INS)—The Pitt Panthers today resumed grid drill in preparation for their game Saturday with the undefeated University of Indiana at Pittsburgh.

For the first time since the beginning of the grid season Pitt's eleven was granted a holiday by Coach Clark Shaughnessy for the excellent showing it made in holding Ohio's Buckeyes 14 to 0.

Indiana's 49-0 win over Minnesota was viewed with nervousness by Shaughnessy. If Pitt drops its game against the unbeaten Hoosiers it will make the 17th straight the Panthers have lost to the Western Conference.

Layden Probing Franck Signing

Commissioner Layden Faced With Decision In Signing Of Two Contracts

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—(INS)—National Football League Commissioner Elmer Layden said today that he would like to see the check that is the basis for All-America Conference claims on Capt. George "Sonny" Franck, who has signed a two-year contract with the New York Giants of the National League.

Layden also said he would like to hear the circumstances under which the check was written and under which it was cleared for payment.

John L. Kreshin, owner of the Chicago franchise in the All-America league, announced a month ago that he had signed Franck, former Minnesota star, for the 1946 season, and had given him a $200 check which had cleared through a bank.

On the check, Kreshin said, were written for this amount: "I consider football in 1946 for the Chicago team of the All-America Football Conference, Capt. George Franck."

"Franck is obligated to play with us. We have it in black and white," Kreshin commented Friday when the Giants announced the signing of Franck.

Layden's office said Franck had not signed any other contract except the Giants' and had never and was not intending to play anywhere except in the National league, which approved the Giants contract.

Franck, on terminal leave, worked out with the Giants in New York Friday after signing.

State Football Is Reviewed On Screen

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Nov. 13.—A decade of Penn State football is reviewed on the screen in a new film just compiled through the joint efforts of the school of physical education and the Alumni Association.

Nittany Lion heroes, the vast majority of whom are still wearing Uncle Sam's garb, fill the principal roles in some of the most memorable plays in recent Penn State history are unfolded.

Every unusual type of play, including fumbles and laterals, is represented in a 30-minute film which tells the story of Penn State football for the period beginning 1937. Approximately 50 plays are recorded.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner Arranges Pre-League Schedule Of Games

THREE REGULARS BACK ON VARSITY

The football uniforms having been put away until next August, the New Castle High youngsters will now devote their time to basketball until March. The season will swing open on Tuesday, December 4, Ralph H. Gardner, faculty manager, announced with a team yet to be secured.

The Section Three card opens here January 5 with Ambler High the opponents.

Gardner has arranged six pre-league warm-up games so far with two dates yet to fill, December 4 and 11, both at home. Games away will take New Castle to Ford City, Clairton and Har-Breck.

The New Castle basketball team has been working out the past week or so under the watchful eye of Mr. Gardner, who annually directs the destinies of the basketball squad while Phil Bridenbaugh, George Thomas and William Klee are busy with football.

Three regulars from the 1944-45 varsity team are again available: Pete Stack, the tall center; Dick Whitaker, a guard; and Al Kozela, the forward. The latter volunteer reported with a severe pain in his side, and has not been practicing since, but it is hoped that he will be available when the season swings under way in earnest with Ambler High here January 5 in the start of Section Three.

Three men who saw action last year in a few varsity games are Billy Walls, Ed Gryboski and Bill Eskin. From the reserve team last year are Lloyd Spears, Harvey Gush, Joe Good and Al Maracetti.

New men from the hinter lands reporting this year are: Doc Damskon, Lou Clause and John Calabro from Franklin; Don Spears, Don Black and Gene Gribble from Washington.

FOUR STARS GONE
Lost to the team this year will be four stellar performers: Billy Andrews, Fred Wimer, Eddie Jackson and Ray Orme. Wimer and Jackson were lost to the team by graduation last January; the other two in June.

Gardner today announced the December warm-up schedule as follows:

- Dec. 4—Pending at home.
- Dec. 7—Probable High of Pittsburgh at home.
- Dec. 11—Pending at home.
- Dec. 14—At Ford City.
- Dec. 18—Butler High at home.
- Dec. 21—At Clairton.
- Dec. 28—At Har-Breck.
- Dec. 29—Monessen at home.

W. & J. Defeats Indiana Teachers

INDIANA, Pa., Nov. 13.—(INS)—Washington and Jefferson's Presidents cracked their losing streak and chalked up their first victory of the season by defeating the Indiana State Teachers College 6-0 in an Armistice Day game.

A 67-yard march in the second period was the only score of the game, which ended the Presidents' football season. Fullback Bob Lumsden carried the ball around the right end for the touchdown.

Last Night's Fights
At New York: Alibi Stolz, 134, Newark, defeated Willie Joyce, 137, (10).
At Cleveland: Chuck Hunter, 150, Cleveland, defeated Reuben (Comboy) Shank, 150, (10).
At Baltimore: Jersey Joe Walcott, 189, Camden, awarded decision over Lee Q. Murray, 207, Newark, Conn. (Murray disqualified in 8th round.)

Penn And Army Play Saturday

Penn Expected To Be Easy Touch For Great Army Team, State Plays In Michigan

(By International News Service)

A select crowd of more than 73,000 spectators was expected to be on hand Saturday for the Pennsylvania-Army clash at Philadelphia and all indications pointed to another victory for one of the greatest teams ever to represent West Point on the gridiron.

Penn trounced unbeaten Columbia 32-7 last week while the Cadets were drubbing Notre Dame 48-0.

Temple, which saw hopes for its first undefeated season since 1935 blown sky high by losing to a powerful Penn State eleven 27-0.

Lafayette, bruised by the 42-14 defeat dished out by Rutgers, will meet the Atlantic City Naval Air Cadets at Easton.

Lehigh was expected to recover sufficiently from the 19-0 lacing administered by New York University to defeat Drexel at Philadelphia.

Drexel's chances appeared slim after its squad bowed to Johns Hopkins 26-13.

Notre Dame Team Is Battered Up

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 13.—(INS)—They needed a traffic cop at the Notre Dame infirmary today, as bruised and battered Bombers lined up for treatment in efforts to be ready for Northwestern at Evanston, Ill., Saturday.

Four more Irish gridlers were added to the injury list after the Army debacle. Four additional Irish squadmen were still on the casualty list from the Navy game, including halfback Elmer Amsun, who lost 11 teeth and sustained a bruised leg.

Says Army Would Be Push-Overs In Battle With Pros

Frank Cope, Veteran Captain And Tackle Of New York Giants Talks With Authority

ARMY HAS NEVER HAD TOUGH WORKOUT

BY LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Army, the most talked-about football team in the nation during the last two seasons, would be a push-over for a good professional eleven.

That is the opinion of Frank Cope, veteran, battle-scarred captain and tackle of the New York Giants, who for just a moment today thought the question over, then said:

"Sure the Giants would beat the Army team, we would be too smart and too tough for a college team—even a college outfit like Army, which includes players who have gained experience elsewhere."

Cope Tough Linebacker

One of the most durable of professional stars since leaving Santa Clara, Cope has been piling up plays and opening holes for seven years as a Giant. He played all last season with a knee that locked on him and was cut open during the winter to remove torn cartilage that was tangled like loose baling wire in a barnyard. He has played the last two games with a broken hand necessitating that he make tackles with his right hand only.

He thinks professionals who can stand the gaff in that fashion simply would be too tough for any college aggregation with occasional weak spots and small men.

Army has a great tackle in De Witt Coulter, a fine center in Herschel Pugh, and a terrific guard in John Green and a few more men on the line who can rip and tear.

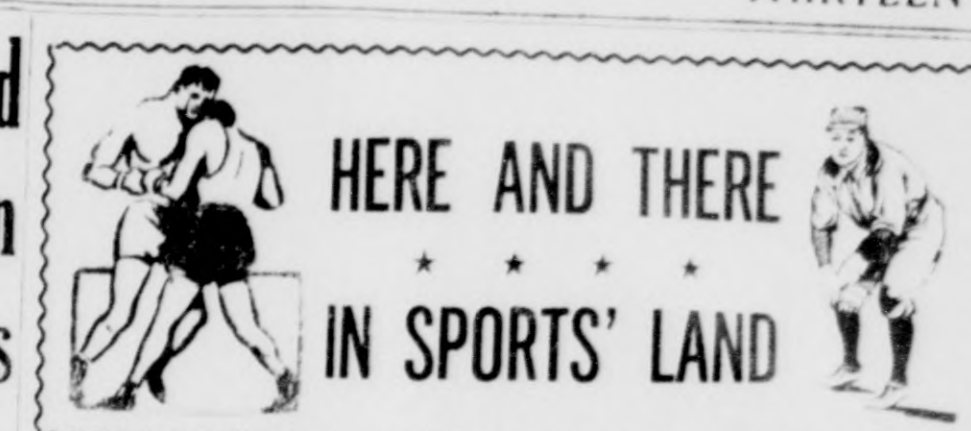

No Real Opposition

"I think Coulter is a really fine tackle," said Cope. "Doc Blanchard, Glenn Davis and Shorty Williams are great backs, but bear in mind they have never been worked on real good."

There have been stories that Army gets a little tough with opponents at times, but Cope insists that any college team is tough strictly in an amateur way. In the National League they are professionals—not dirty, but extremely enthusiastic when they put on a block or tackle or go to work on the inside.

ELLWOOD BOY TO BOX

Ray Miller of Ellwood City will box the Champion Kid at Akron, in one of the preliminary bouts on the Tommy Bell vs. Bill McDonald ring card at Youngstown tonight.

SPORTS EVENTS in the southland will be revived this winter now that ball teams are expected to south. The $10,000 St. Petersburg, Fla. golf meet will be staged in early March as will the St. Petersburg-Havana yacht race and the southern power boat regatta will be held, race tracks will operate and the football players' grid tournament will be revived. Tony Zale, former middleweight champion, had 41 months service. He will resume boxing. He won 55 fights as a amateur, won the pro title by flattening Al Hostak in 13 rounds in 1940, defended his title against George Abrams and wound up his pre-military service career by going out of his class to lose to Billy Scan.

People who attended the Interlochen music camp in Michigan during its season, experienced an odd sight when some skunks invaded the place and strolled up and down the sides while the concerts were under way. American regatta were observed during the past summer near Findlay, O., and tourists reported them from almost every section of the corn state, indicating that the large, white, long-legged waders are coming back like ducks. Here's what the Ohio conservation department reminds: "Remove the tall glands of a duck before cooking. The two large oil glands in the tail destroy the flavor of the meat." They referring to wild duck.

An observer stepped outside a hotel recently at Aberdeen, S. C. He counted cars from 22 states, occupants having gone to that to hunt pleasant. Illegal fishing nets seized in Michigan waters off the Chicago to the straits, according to Jack Welch of Campfire Corner, Naval Training Center, December 1, may be shifted to Soldiers Field, Chicago.

First professional bout of notice in this district in some time will be held tonight when Tommy Bell, Youngstown, meets Bill McDowell, Houston, in a welterweight battle scheduled to go 10 rounds at Youngstown. While Bell may not be best welterweight and McDowell, quite the fact remains fans are hungry for pugilistic action and Raven-Wood auditorium may have a better than usual crowd. Bell fought here as an amateur. Frankie Moran of this city defeated him twice. Moran has not boxed since he was mustered out of service.

Chicago Will Not Rejoin Conference

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—(INS)—They played a red-hot game of intramural football today at the University of Chicago—and by the word of Jay Berwanger, Maroon gridiron immortal, that will be the extent of the game on the midway.

Berwanger declared the University of Chicago will not return to football competition in the Western Conference.

The university accepts enrollment of students who normally would be in their second and third high school years. Berwanger said: "This is reflected in the fact that while we have some 190 students playing intramural football, none would be able to compete in the intercollegiate variety, since all are only 15 or 16 years old."

All high school in Lawrence county playing basketball are asked to send their 1945-46 schedules to The News in care of Charles "Bugs" Warrick as soon as possible.

Dr. G. S. Bennett Discuss Peace

Local Pastor Believes United Nations Charter Provides Chance For Lasting Peace

ALL PREVIOUS PACTS FAILURES

In spite of the fact that all previous treaties and pacts between nations have proven a failure, Dr. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, in addressing members of the New Castle Rotary club at their noon luncheon in The Castleton, Monday, expressed the belief that under the United Nations Charter, the world has a better chance for peace than at any time in its history.

Dr. Bennett stated that you cannot legislate peace. It has been attempted before and yet the world has not come through the worst war in history.

Make Peace Possible

The United Nations Charter, he explained, does not outline any peace terms, but it was framed to make peace possible. It calls for a union of friendly nations who will cooperate when an international crisis faces the world. But in spite of its intentions alone this line it has yet to prove itself successful, as there is warfare today. Only today we have the news of the United States bombing Japan, to aid the Dutch subdue the natives who have risen up against their rulers; and in China, three million well armed soldiers are striving to get at each other's throats. In Palestine there is the trouble between the Jews and Arabs.

What the United Nations is doing about this, we do not know, he stated. However, if we are to have a permanent peace, it must be a satisfying one. If we are not going to have a satisfying and permanent peace then we should fight it out and get it out of our system for all time he said.

However in bringing about peace, Dr. Bennett expressed the belief that we must have national unity in this country, to whom all nations are looking for guidance, which we do not have. If the seventy-two millions of people affiliated with the churches of this nation would unite under the one God they serve, there would be no question of a peace brought about by the observance of the golden rule.

The large nations, however, he averred, cannot set themselves up to dominate the other smaller nations and expect permanent peace. In conclusion, he urged his audience to work for these things which have built up the great democracy this country now is so that it will not crumble and decay like some of the great civilizations of the past.

Two And Half Million Back From Pacific This Year

Pacific Fleet Headquarters Disclose Huge Number To Be Back By Christmas

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Pacific fleet headquarters disclosed today that more than two and one-half million Pacific army and navy veterans will be returned to the United States by Christmas.

A special press release, citing operations of the navy's "magic carpet" division said that this number represented one-third of the servicemen deployed last August for the invasion of Japan.

The statement disclosed that by mid-October navy ships alone returned 835,889 servicemen "responsible for winning the Pacific war."

Thousands more were transported by airplanes, by army transports and War Shipping Administration vessels.

"Magic Carpet"

The statement explained that "magic carpet" is the code name used to designate all operations and ships which are employed to return separates to the United States.

The present navy transport division includes 144 ships with a total passenger capacity of 200,000. The 1st division under command of Rear Adm. Henry S. Kendell was assigned during the last weeks of the war at Okinawa.

At that time, Kendell had only 18 escort carriers and the large carrier Saratoga at his disposal.

With Vice Adm. W. W. Smith, as administrative commander, the navy division is now being the major share of the burden of returning separates to the United States, according to the statement.

DAIRY ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The average production of milk and butterfat per cow has a direct relation to the income above feed costs, according to information presented at the annual meeting of the Lawrence County Dairy Herd Improvement association. This group composed of dairymen in Lawrence and Beaver counties, employs testers who record the production and feed consumption of each cow in the herds of the members. These figures enable the owners to manage their herds more profitably than is possible without this information.

Figures taken from the annual report show that the average cow in the association produced during the year ending August 31, 1945, 6,947 pounds of milk containing 218.5 pounds of butterfat. She ate $138.40 worth of feed and returned $163.77 above feed costs. This is not the profit on the cow, as the use of buildings and equipment, depreciation of the cow labor and several other costs must be paid. Considerable variation in the production and returns above feed costs were found among the herds in the association. In general, the herds with the higher average production returned larger incomes to the owners. With market conditions likely to be unsettled in the future, all dairymen should note this fact and discard the low producers.

J. H. Wilson, president of the association, presided at the meeting. The directors were re-elected. They are: J. H. Wilson, Floyd Douglas, Wayne Walker, Glenn Lockhart, and John Hove.

1750 To Lose Jobs At U. S. Air Depots

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. Nov. 13.—The Middletown Air Technical Service Command reported it has been ordered to cut 1750 employees from its staff here and at subordinate installations in Philadelphia, New York, New Jersey, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Approximately 900 of the discharges either have taken place or must occur before November 30 at the depot here and the Farm Shop Building shops in Harrisburg, the public relations office stated. The remainder will affect the sub-depot and other specialized installations elsewhere.

Most of those affected are employees of the maintenance division.

Radio Amateurs To Get New Bands

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Amateur radio operators will have new frequency bands starting November 15.

The Federal Communications Commission announced this recently, and added it had extended the operator licenses to May 15, 1946. The commission also revoked the wartime order prohibiting amateurs from communicating with foreign stations.

PIN-WORMS At Last—A Real Treatment!

Anyone who has ever had Pin-Worms knows how tormenting and embarrassing this infection can be, and how hard it may be to deal with the creatures, once they get a foothold inside the body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (Creosol violet), a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P.W., the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratory of Dr. D. J. Davis & Son. P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms. So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the aggravating rectal itch. And don't delay. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P.W. right away, and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed, or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P.W. for Pin-Worms!

Declare Some Officers Delay Return To U. S.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—(INS)—Reliable American military sources alleged today that many American officers embarked for shipment to the United States are deliberately missing their boats, rather than to return to the "uncertainty of job seeking" in the states.

The spokesman declared that only last week, of 352 officers ordered to report individually to the port of embarkation at Marseilles, only 42 showed up. It was claimed that this sort of thing happens all the time.

Many officers prefer their present respected positions and comfort to returning to their homeland where they feel they will become "job-hunting nonentities," these sources declared.

The officers, therefore, are said to be doing their utmost to delay their departing as long as possible so as to build up at least a nest egg from their present salaries and living expense allowances.

Public relations officers do not deny the figures cited, but explain that the delay in departure of the officers concerned was due to lack of transportation. It also was stated that officers cannot obey orders from Marseilles, placing them aboard ships returning to the United States, unless they are released by commanders who often want to maintain staffs so as to perpetuate their own positions.
